PARIS, Aug. 28. — (Via Berlin) — A sweeping purge of all known and suspected Communists in the Paris region — particularly foreign agents who have filtered through the closely-sealed borders of France — was launched today in reprisal for the attempted slaying of Pierre Laval.

German authorities of the former French capital, it was indicated, will end their former tolerance toward dissident elements, provocateurs and saboteurs.

PA NEW OBSERVES

There has been a wonderful array of flowers of many descriptions and hues, growing this summer, in the joint backyard plots of Mrs. Charlotte Hazen and H. G. Boyd, of North Crawford avenue. Among them are beautiful roses, gladioli, cosmos, large yellow dahlias, gladioli, delphinium, "Martha Washington," sweet alyssum, "snow on the mountain." Doubtless much work has been done to bring about this "garden beautiful."

Labor is so short in the Sharon area that two girls have been employed by the N. Y. A. to paint street signs. If their work proves satisfactory, more will be hired, it is stated.

There was another cool one, the mercury at the water works standing at 42 degrees, but lower temperatures were noted in outlying spots. Just a little warning that fall is close at hand.

There must have been considerable rain north of here early this week. The Shenango rose to 6.8 feet yesterday, a rise of more than two feet over Monday's level. It was back down to 5.7 feet this morning.

Wednesday, when an army convoy of 250 vehicles of the 46th Field Artillery, 10th Infantry and 11th Army Hospital, passed through the city, Mrs. J. W. Bishop of Cleveland, visiting here, espied her cousin among the soldiers, and they shouted greetings to each other. The soldier, named Cook, is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cook, and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Armstrong of Croton avenue. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bishop are visiting with the latter, Mrs. Bishop's parents.

Charge Laval Attack Was Communist Plot

(International News Service)
VICHY, Aug. 28. — Moving swiftly to end a wave of alleged communist terrorism culminating in the attempted assassination of Pierre Laval, German authorities today announced three convicted communist propagandists, according to word received in Vichy.

The gleaming blade fell at the famous old Sante prison, where for decades past political prisoners have been incarcerated. The victims apparently were Abraham Trzebruch, a Russian Jew; Emil Jean Bastard and Andre Brichet, who had been condemned to death by a special tribunal for disseminating communist propaganda.

VICHY, Aug. 28. — Three convicted communist propagandists were sentenced to death by a special Paris tribunal today amid charges that yesterday's attempt to assassinate former Vice Premier Pierre Laval was part of a vast Communist plot. The special court in Paris sentenced six men to prison at hard labor and meted out death penalties to Abraham Trzebruch, a Russian Jew, Emil Jean Bastard and Andre Brichet for engaging in Communist propaganda.

Hard Labor For Life
In addition the general secretary of the outlawed Communist newspaper Humanite, Lucien Sampaix, was sentenced to hard labor for life. The court cracked down on the Reds as physicians termed the condition of the wounded Laval as "satisfactory as possible."

Laval, chief apostle of French collaboration with Germany, was struck by two bullets fired by a young French Communist at Versailles who had enlisted in an "anti-

Defense And Lease-Lend Orders Must Come First New Decree For Industry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. — The nation's 2,000 factories and stores were placed under stringent government regulation to fulfill defense and lease-lend orders today as the United States shifted from peacetime to wartime economy. In the first sweeping decree since the defense program was started more than a year ago, OPM Priorities Director E. R. Stettinius, Jr., with the full approval of President Roosevelt and Defense Chiefs William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, issued the regulation setting what he said is a "new basic" policy.

Under the act, factories and all other business firms must accept defense orders offered them "even if acceptance of these orders will prevent, or delay, deliveries of non-defense orders." It means, it was explained, that business as usual is out the window and that the nation's entire productive capacity is going to be geared to turn out war (Continued On Page Twenty-One)

R. A. F. Pounds Germans Again

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 28. — British planes once more bombed targets in western Germany last night and early today, dropping tons of explosives on the industrial city of Mannheim and other points. Late last night bombers also attacked invasion bases along the Nazi-held French coast. Gun flashes were seen at Dunkirk and Calais and explosions were heard by observers on the English coast.

Meanwhile William Robert Dunn of Houston, Tex., a pilot in one of two R. A. F. American Eagle squadrons, was high-scoring among the American volunteer airmen after shooting down two German Messerschmitt fighters yesterday, bringing his total "bag" to five. After his two successes yesterday Dunn was wounded in the foot during a battle with a third Messerschmitt but managed nevertheless to bring his plane back across the channel to his home base. Today he is recovering in a hospital.

Estonian Island Is Goal Of Nazis, Parachutists Fail

(International News Service)
STOCKHOLM, Aug. 28. — An unsuccessful German attempt to seize the Estonian Island of Oesel with a parachute army was reported in a Soviet broadcast heard in Stockholm today. Most of the parachutists were captured, it was said. Oesel and the Island of Nargoe were bombarded by German artillery, it was said. While the Russian forts were undamaged, many farms were ploughed up by shells. Nargoe has a large Swedish population.

Germany May Break With Iran

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Aug. 28. — Official German quarters, commenting on the decision of the new Iranian cabinet to cease hostilities, hinted it might mean severance of diplomatic relations between Tehran and Berlin. While pointing out that "further resistance was useless due to the overpowering Anglo-Russo forces," the quarters said: "Whether the new situation will compel severance of German-Iranian relations remains to be seen."

MOSCOW, Aug. 28. — A smashing Russian victory over a Nazi division on the west bank of the Dnieper River, with more than 6,000 German soldiers killed, was announced officially in Moscow today.

A military communique said the 132nd German division was defeated several days ago in the battle on the bank of the river.

(Editor's Note: Last night the Budapest radio said Hungarian troops had crossed the lower Dnieper River.)

The latest regular Russian war communique stated that Soviet troops during the night "stubbornly fought the enemy in the directions of Kingisepp, Dniepropetrovsk and Odessa."

Earlier the regular midnight communique of the Soviet high command reported furious fighting at strategic centers of the Russo-German front.

Draft Boards To Call 15,158

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 28. — Pennsylvania's 422 local draft boards today prepared to fill an army requisition of 15,158 selectees to be sent to examination centers between Sept. 16 and Oct. 9 for final physical examination.

State selective service officials declared that the call was the largest received since the examination-prior-to-induction plan was inaugurated last May by the state. The call includes 14,372 white and 786 Negro trainees. Those who pass the examination will be inducted into the army at Fort Meade, Md., Camp Lee, Va., and New Cumberland, Pa.

Berlin Reports Terrific Air Raids On Russians

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Aug. 28. — Terrific German air raids on Russian objectives, during which 35 Red air force planes were shot down in aerial combats, two Soviet auxiliary cruisers were damaged and heavy losses were inflicted on Red army troops were announced in Berlin today.

A communique said the Luftwaffe raided railways in the Brjansk and Chernogor area, destroying 35 Russian machines in ensuing combats. In addition, it was stated, other planes scored several hits on and severely damaged the two auxiliary cruisers south of Ochakov in the Black Sea, rendering the vessels impossible to maneuver. Bombers also raided the Saporozhe-Pavlograd railway, setting the Slavgorod station on fire and wrecking five trains, the communique said.

Heavy losses were said to have been inflicted on "dense Soviet columns" retreating eastward from Dniepropetrovsk.

U. S. Will Not Halt Plan To Aid Russia

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. — The United States government today feels that Japan is showing undue concern over the shipment of American aid to Soviet Russia via Vladivostok.

Official state department quarters feel the importance being attached by Japan to the American shipments is not warranted by the amount of supplies now en route to Vladivostok. There is reason to believe that what to this effect has been conveyed by Secretary of State Cordell Hull to Japanese Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura.

American View
The official American view concerning Japan's expressed concern over U. S. supply shipments to Vladivostok is represented to be as follows:
1. Shipments of American aviation gasoline and other supplies to Vladivostok are intended to assist Soviet Russia in resisting Nazi aggression in the west.

Wildcat Strike At Detroit Plant

(BULLETIN)
DETROIT, Aug. 28. — Ten thousand men were thrown out of work today when what was termed by the management as a "wildcat strike" forced the Great Lakes Steel corporation in suburban Ecorse to shut down despite pleas by a union leader that the men remain on their jobs.

Today's walkout was another in a series which have occurred frequently since July 15 when the company signed a contract with the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee (C. I. O.). According to Federal Labor Conciliator James F. Dewey these work stoppages have put the company behind 50,000 tons in its production of steel for national defense. It was Dewey who met the figure of 10,000 men made idle. The strike came at a time when union leaders were negotiating wage adjustments.

Start Probe Of Gas Shortage

Davies Says More Than 10
Per Cent Curtailment
To Be Needed

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. — Asking for a gasoline curtailment of more than 10 per cent, Acting Oil Coordinator Ralph K. Davies today charged that "forces antagonistic to national defense" the spreading false rumors in an effort to "sabotage" the administration's program of petroleum conservation on the Atlantic seaboard.

Appearing as the first witness before a special senate committee inquiring into the gasoline shortage, Davies declared frankly that he believed "sabotage agents" had manufactured rumors that the shortage is a fictitious one deliberately staged by the administration to create a war psychosis.

"One cannot but wonder," Davies told the committee, "if there does not lie behind these efforts to promote confusion and create dissension some purpose, sinister and planned."

"Is it possible that we have here an attempt at sabotage? No more vital effort than the supply of oil could be selected for interference by forces antagonistic to national defense."

Davies was emphatic that the shortage is real.

Gates Named For Navy Post

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. — President Roosevelt today nominated Arthur H. Gates, president of the New York Trust Co., to be assistant secretary of the navy for aeronautics.

This post has been vacant for some time, but the president recently appointed an assistant secretary of war in direct charge of the air branch, and today's appointment was designed to balance the services.

Gates had a distinguished record as a naval aviator in the first World War. Joining the naval air arm in 1917, he went overseas with a bombardment group which was working with the British and French. He later commanded the U. S. naval station at Dunkirk. While leading a French squadron, he was shot down behind the German lines and taken prisoner. He remained in a prison camp until the armistice.

Highway Work Curtailment Feared

Materials Are Hard To Secure

Defense Priorities System May Affect Improvement Of State Highways

WARNING ISSUED BY HIGHWAY HEAD

By JOHN PAGET
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—A shortage of road building material may force the curtailment of work on Pennsylvania's 40,522-mile highway system during the national emergency, State Secretary of Highways I. Lamont Hughes warned today.

Diversing of steel, tars, asphalt and other material to defense industries by O. P. M. has made it increasingly difficult for the state to make normal purchases of needed material, Hughes explained.

The federal government will grant priority of materials only for the 3,000 miles of "strategic highways" so designated by it in Pennsylvania, the officials pointed out.

Hard To Get Materials
"Improvement of the remaining 37,522 miles of highways must be on a catch-as-catch-can basis since we find it hard to get the materials," said Hughes.

A survey of material shortages was completed by Assistant Highway Secretary C. H. Buckius, who reported that unless priorities were granted on steel, tars and asphalt it would be necessary to scrap a large part of the improvements planned over the next two years.

After an analysis of the situation was given O. P. M., the state was granted priorities only for needed materials used in the maintenance of the 3,000-mile defense network. The state's priorities rating for materials has been raised from B2 to 5A, the department was informed by C. M. Woodward, director of iron and steel for O. P. M.

Buckius' three-page report, which will be submitted by Gov. Arthur H. James, pointed out that the federal government has listed highway construction and improvement as necessary to the defense program but that the state could not force "responsible federal officers" to grant priorities.

Cannot Secure Action
"Since we cannot secure the necessary action from responsible federal authorities to secure priority preferences," the report stated, "I feel that the situation is so serious that it should be called to the attention of the governor with the recommendation that he write directly to the president of the United States to inquire whether construction and reconstruction of highways and bridges are vital to the national defense program and if they are to have the necessary orders issued to order priorities."

Hughes explained, however, that since the report was made, the O. P. M. has slightly liberalized priorities asked by the department, but that unless materials are made available to the department in larger quantities it will be necessary to reduce improvements.

The department has a $90,000,000

highway program drafted for the 1941-42 biennium as against $68,000,000 spent during the last two year period. In addition, $8,000,000 in federal-aid money given the state will be spent entirely on 19 projects confined to the 3,000-mile network during the next construction period. A similar amount was spent on 46 federal aid projects during the 1939-41 construction season.

"We are going the limit for national defense," Buckius said, "but we must have cooperation from other authorities."

refuse of various kinds. Notices are posted at many places on the streets stating that it is unlawful to throw any refuse on the sidewalks or in the cartways of the streets. Every city would benefit by a campaign to enforce such regulations.

Monday night warm, Wednesday night quite cool. The heat was turned on in the street cars this morning, and it felt comforting.

People do some funny things. Pa New was on a train going east recently which was moving through a driving rain. The train stopped at one of the stations and a woman got off. A little later trainmen came through the car and picked up her umbrella, which, although the rain was pouring down outside, the passenger had forgotten to take with her.

Some unusual announcements are made along the highways of the nation to attract attention of the great army of motor tourists. Pa New recalls one noted recently which said something like this: Stop and get some of that fine roasted chicken. This is the place where you can eat chicken with your fingers."

Noted a Western Pennsylvania farmer who was plowing a field with a tractor recently. He had a real idea of comfort. He had a huge umbrella mounted over the tractor seat and was riding under it, thus being protected from the burning rays of the hot sun.

Despite the fact that the mushroom season is still a couple of weeks away, Pa News spotted an unusually large number of persons searching for the umbrella-shaped edibles in the past few days.

Rural skies are being brightened nightly by numerous corn and wheat roasts being held throughout the county's farm districts, true harbingers of autumn.

Deaths of the Day

Harry Blews
Death today claimed one of New Castle's pioneer residents, Harry Blews, when he passed away this morning at 2:30 o'clock at his home, 910 Ryan avenue, after a long illness. He was 89 years of age.

Mr. Blews was widely known in the city and vicinity as one of the men who, as a skilled workman, aided in starting industry in this city in the old puddling, tin and glass works here. He had been retired for a number of years.

Mr. Blews was born in Staffordshire, England, on April 13, 1852. His parents, Henry and Phoebe Blews, brought him from England to Lawrence county when he was two years of age. On July 2, 1874 he was married to Sarah Whittaker Blews, who preceded him in death 13 years ago. Mr. Blews was the last of a family of four girls and two boys, having been preceded in death, also, by four sisters and one brother.

He was a charter member of the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church, since its organization 57 years ago, and had been a prominent member of the official board and a member of the Quarterly Conference of that church. He was well known in the Free Methodist church at large.

Survivors are the following children, Lizzie Blews, Mrs. Ida Hood, Mrs. Abbie Cherry and Bert Blews, all of New Castle, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services are to be held Saturday afternoon, August 30, at 2:30 o'clock in the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. P. C. Millard, in charge. Interment will follow in Gracefield cemetery.

After 4 o'clock today, friends may call at the home, 910 Ryan avenue, to view the body, which will be taken to the church Saturday at 1 o'clock. Friends may view the body at the church until 2:20 o'clock when the casket will be closed permanently.

the United Presbyterian church and of the Firemen's club.

He leaves his wife, Sarah Dick Baker; his mother, Mrs. Margaret Baker of Slippery Rock; four brothers, Fred and Dick of Slippery Rock, Bert and Scott of New Castle; three sisters, Mrs. Eugene Luckoth of New Castle, Mary and Esther of Slippery Rock.

The body has been removed to the Ueber funeral home, Slippery Rock. Funeral services will be held from the funeral home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock (E. S. T.) with Rev. A. S. Fleming, United Presbyterian minister, in charge. Interment will be in Slippery Rock cemetery.

Friends will be received at the funeral home Friday afternoon and evening from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Harry S. Campbell
After a lingering illness of three years duration, Harry S. Campbell, aged 52, of 225 Fairfield avenue, died this morning at 12:10 o'clock at his home. Mr. Campbell had been confined to bed for the past seven weeks, his condition having become critical.

Mr. Campbell, born March 31, 1889, was well known and highly respected in this city. For 37 years he was employed as a tinworker in the Shennango mill of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. and before his retirement two years ago he had been a roller. By faith, Mr. Campbell was a Methodist.

Surviving are his wife, Lela Newell Campbell, to whom he had been married for the past 30 years; one son, Merle; his father, C. C. Campbell of North Ray street; three brothers, Roy of New Castle, Elmer of Cleveland and Wesley of Warren, O., and one sister, Ethel Double. A sister, Mrs. Celia Hunter, and a brother, James, preceded him in death several years ago. His mother, Mary Dean Campbell, also preceded him in death.

The body has been removed to the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, where friends may call and where funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The family will receive friends at the mortuary this evening from 7 to 9 and Friday afternoon and evening from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Sullivan Funeral
Funeral mass for John J. Sullivan, Mercer, R. D. 2, was celebrated Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from the All Saints church, Mercer-Greenville road, with Rev. Fr. O'Mahoney as celebrant.

Pallbearers were John Mason, Patrick Williams, Fred Robinson, George Leivy, Elmer Anderson and Amos Weaver.

The body was taken to Mahoningtown and sent to Rochester, N. Y., where further services and interment will take place.

Wawrzynski Funeral
Requiem mass for Jane Wawrzynski, 211 Preston avenue, was celebrated in Holy Trinity Polish National Catholic church by Rev. Fr. L. Wziesinski this morning, following short services from the home, 211 Preston avenue, at 9 o'clock.

Pallbearers were Sam Patsy, Albert Murawski, Frank Stafford, Louis Natale, Jerome Jerina and Marion Sniezek.

Interment was in Holy Trinity cemetery.

Warnock Funeral
Funeral services for Joseph Warnock were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence, 821 Bonito street, with Rev. Frank Lehman of Ashtabula, O., in charge.

During services, two appropriate selections were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Lehman.

Active pallbearers were William Rhodes, Harold Flaughner, Will Pray, Roy, Don and Howard Warnock. Honorary pallbearers were Donald Young, Donald Powell, Reggie Daley, Tom Kennedy and Eugene Wilson. Interment was in Castle View Burial Park.

Bolshevik" brigade to fight against Russia. The gunman, Paul Colette said he had enlisted in the brigade for the purpose of "shooting someone."

Condition Serious
An operation was performed on Laval and the bullets were removed from his arm and chest. His condition was described as serious but not critical.

Marcel Deat, one of Laval's principal aides, who also was wounded, likewise was in serious condition. He was struck by a bullet in the chest near the heart.

Two other persons, Col. Pierre Durry, commander of the barracks where the shooting occurred, and an unidentified young man, were slightly wounded.

Coun. Fernand De Brion, Vichy's envoy to Paris, who was at the scene of the shooting, declared the attack was part of a Communist plot to bring terrorism to France.

and other officials attended a ceremony dedicating the flag of the "anti-Bolshevik" brigade. Colette was immediately arrested and authorities said he confessed membership in the underground French Communist party.

Taken before an examining magistrate, Colette declared:

"I decided to enlist in the legion with the idea of shooting someone. The only man I could recognize among the personages I saw was Laval. That's why I fired at him."

The young would-be assassin was held subject to court martial and death before a firing squad.

The incident climaxed a series of disorders for which both Vichy authorities and German officials in occupied France had prescribed drastic penalties, including death.

A few hours after the shooting the new summary court martial to "combat Communist and anarchist activities" opened its first session in Paris with large forces of police mobilized around the court to maintain order.

Cleanup To Follow
French and German authorities in Paris were expected to make a thorough clean-up of the former capital to prevent a possible repetition of the incident at the Versailles barracks yesterday.

A clear indication of the course the predicted "purge" in Paris would take was given by the newspapers Moniteur and Petit Journal.

Both blamed the attempt on Communists and said:

"The crime of Versailles more than justifies the measures taken by the French government for suppression of the Communist party, which recognizes such acts of terror."

The attempted assassinations have caused "universal indignation" throughout France, the papers said.

"No doubt can prevail," Moniteur added, "as to the danger to which all French statesmen are exposed if they desire reconstruction of their country within the orbit of the new Europe."

Moniteur lashed out at "foreign agents" whom it accused of complicity in the attempt.

The Leslie reunion will be held Saturday Aug. 30, in the North Beaver Grange hall. Dinner will be served at noon.

Brilliance depends on quality . . .

It is a common mistake to judge the value of a diamond by its size only. The fact is that brilliance and beauty do not depend upon size but on the quality of the gem itself.

Before you buy a diamond, we invite you to drop in for a chat with our diamond experts. There is no obligation!

LOVE-WALTERS WEDDING AT THE FIRST BAPTIST C. D. OF A. DANCE AT PARK FRIDAY

One of the loveliest weddings of the late summer season, took place Wednesday evening, in the First Baptist church at 6:30 o'clock when Miss Helen Louise Love, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce P. Love of 232 North Walnut street was united in marriage to Paul Walters, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walters of 1113 Cunningham avenue.

The vows were pledged before an altar flanked by ferns and palms with the Rev. Frank Hollinshead, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating with the single service. Preceding the service, Garth Edmundson rendered orations consisting of "Nocturne" by Felix Mendelssohn, "Through the Rose Window" by Garth Edmundson, "Symphony Movement" by Heyden and Cronin's "Prelude in A Minor" followed by the Wagnerian "Wedding March." The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white mousseline de soie made long veil was caught with a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a Colonial bouquet of orchids and white roses. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls given to the bride by her aunt, Mrs. Myrtle Klingensmith, on their wedding day. The bridegroom was given a Bible by his father, the presentation being made by the pastor.

Miss Louise Kerr, as maid of honor, was attired in a pink chiffon gown, patterned similar to the bride's, with long veil and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley. Arthur Walters, usher, was dressed in a tuxedo, and his brother, George and Charles Walters, also brothers of the bridegroom, followed in the church and the assisting in serving were Mrs. Helen Francis, Dorothy Brust, Sara Gandy, and Robert McNeese and Miss Edith Rowe. Miss Parsons cut the tiered wedding cake which centered the table.

The young couple left for a wedding trip to the southern states. Skyline Drive and other points of interest, and upon returning they will be "at home" to friends in their newly furnished apartment on East Washington street.

The bride, a graduate of the local high school, has been connected with the Shenango Pottery and is a graduate of the New Castle high school, is employed with the P. and L. E. railroad.

Modern 8 Club

CANDLELIGHT WEDDING AT ROSE POINT CHURCH

Wearing a gown and veil which she designed and made herself, Miss Beryl Todd Stickle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stickle of Rose Point, became the bride of Miles Jermantovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jermantovich of Midland, at a candlelight service in the Reformed Presbyterian church of Rose Point on August 22.

Rev. Alvin Smith, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Paul McCracken, officiated at the ceremony before an altar decorated with palms and gladioli.

Before the ceremony, Annette Smith, daughter of the presiding minister, sang three numbers, "Because," "At Dawning," and "Nightingale." The traditional Lohengrin Wedding Chorus was played by Mrs. Alvin Smith.

The bridegroom was of white satin, with lace insertions at neck and waist, and the veil was of tulle, banded with satin. Miss Stickle carried a white Bible, decorated with gardenias.

Maid of honor, Anna Jermantovich, sister of the groom, and bridesmaids, Miss Beulah Stickle, sister of the bride, and Miss Jean Stoner, a cousin, were attired alike, in pastel organdy gowns and tulle veils. They carried Colonial bouquets.

Wycliffe McCracken of Beaver Falls served as best man and ushers were Richard Stickle, brother of the bride, and Richard Stoner, a cousin. Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left on a short wedding trip, and upon their return will be at home in their apartment in Baden.

Mrs. Jermantovich is a teacher in the Baden schools, while Mr. Jermantovich is a senior at Kirtland College of Osteopathy and Surgery at Kirtland, Mo.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

HELP HANDICAPPED PUPILS

Some while ago we considered the importance of having the doctor and dentist carefully check the child who is entering school in the fall. A child should start to school with as few physical handicaps as possible.

He should also begin his school life unhampered by emotional handicaps. If he has excessive fears; of the dark, electric storms, animals, physical pain, or of being laughed at, he will be seriously handicapped on entering school. These fears might grow worse instead of better.

Therefore, we his parents need to study him and ourselves, his playmates and all others who often come in contact with him, in order to find ways to help him gradually overcome these fears.

It will not help him to tell him he should not have these fears, that they make him appear babyish. We help him as we guide him day by day to find ways to exercise more courage and by helping him to celebrate his victories.

Fear of Small Children
We need to protect him, but not too much. Most of all, we need to set the stage so he will play freely with other children, learning to settle his own quarrels and fight his own battles. The magnitude of fears the little child may have on entering kindergarten or first grade we little realize.

If the child has been over-protected by his mother, unable to feel happy out of her sight, his entering school may be a terrifying ordeal. I wish every mother of a child who is starting kindergarten or first grade next fall would try to help this child to learn to be happy with adults and other children his age in this parent's absence.

Emotional Handicaps
If this child gets temper tantrums or suffers from excessive jealousy at home, those unfavorable emotional expressions will almost surely prove a handicap to him at school. As with fears, parents need to study ways of reducing explosive anger and violent jealousies.

To prepare the young child emotionally for the first day at school, his parents need to exercise abundantly all the understanding, wisdom and skills we have been considering in this column. They need to treat him as a developing person, seeing as he sees, understanding as he feels, understanding and feeling as he feels.

A selected list of books and pamphlets for parents who wish to guide their child well, at the various age levels, may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp.

TEACH THEM TO SWIM

"Mother, may I go out to swim?"
"Yes, my darling daughter."
Just hang your clothes on a hickory limb.
But don't go near the water."

That used to be the attitude of mothers toward their daughters and fathers toward their sons. They were afraid of drowning. They did not even permit the children to learn to swim and usually, the boy who learned to swim, learned against the will of his father.

Already summertime outings to beaches and rivers are taking their toll of young lives, because the youngsters do not know how to swim, or have not done enough swimming to enable them to save themselves from drowning. Most of these tragedies could have been avoided if the victims had known how to swim and swim well. It would be a mighty good thing for parents now to take steps to see that the children do know.

There are plenty of places in and about New Castle where it is possible to learn to swim under good instruction—not only in the various camps like the Fred Renz Camp and the Y. M. C. A. Camp, but there are other camps on the Neshannock, Slippery Rock, Shesango and Conococheague Rivers.

As a helpful, invigorating sport, swimming belongs on the list of normal accomplishments of every normal youngster, and so, as a matter of course, does a knowledge of first-aid treatment for submersion as a means of saving the lives of others. Certainly it is better for parents to obtain competent swimming instruction for their children than to leave such training to chance or luck, or the haphazard coaching of playmates.

HAPPYGRAMS

by ERICH BRANDEIS

A Marion County grandmother wrote to the Indiana Selective Service headquarters, offering her services so that her drafted grandson might finish his college studies.

"I can cook and sew," she wrote, "and I could help with the washing. Please let me go."

Why wouldn't it be a good idea to let grandmothers enlist?

A man may be a darn good fighter but very poor at housekeeping chores.

Thousands of women want to do their bit. They may not be able to carry a rifle or fly a plane, but cleanliness and good food will do much to bring about victory.

So here's to the Grandmothers Division—its insignia a frying pan, a darning needle and a cake of soap!

If you are looking for some good, clean fun nowadays, you'll have to scour your town.

Curious that a homeless man wrote the most enduring song about home. Only the other day I was reading what John Howard Payne, author of "Home Sweet Home," wrote about his famous song.

"How often have I been in the heart of Paris, Berlin, London, or some other city, and have heard persons singing or heard organs playing 'Home, Sweet Home,' without a shilling to buy myself the next meal or a place to lay my head! The world has literally sung my song till every heart is familiar with its melody; yet I have been a wanderer from my boyhood, and in my old age, have to submit to humiliation for my bread."

THE MODERN WAY

Irvin Cobb was talking to a man who was accused of profiteering in the war. "All I did was what a man would do," said the profiteer, "take advantage of an opportunity."

"Yes," mused Cobb. "That's all Captain Kidd used to do."

WHERE THE BOY HAD ONE ON

HENRY FORD

Henry Ford, the automobile man, was camping with a party of friends in the woods of Washington County, Tennessee.

Mr. Ford was busy sawing wood with which to replenish the camp fire when he was approached by the small son of a neighbor, Mr. Lee, who offered his assistance.

"All right, sonny, come on," remarked the noted car maker; and then when the two had been cutting wood awhile, Mr. Ford said to his young helper: "Do you know that you are sawing wood with Henry Ford?"

Not for a moment overawed by the great man in whose presence he stood, the lad retorted: "And do you know you are sawing wood with Robert S. Lee?"

She: "Did the caress I gave you last night mean anything to you?" He: "A dollar. Your little brother saw us."

HE WAS ON THE RIGHT TRACK WITH THAT QUESTION
Doctor J. M. Buckley, the Methodist divine, was asked one day to conduct an "experience meeting" at a colored church in the South.

A colored woman arose and bore witness to the preciousness of her religion as light bringer and comfort giver.

"That's good, sister," commented Doctor Buckley. "But now about the practical side. Does your religion make you strive to prepare your husband a good dinner? Does it make you look after him in every way?"

Just then Doctor Buckley felt a yank at his coat tails by the colored preacher, who whispered ardently: "Press dem questions, doctor, press dem questions. Dat's my wife!"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—O. S. R. D. That's the latest of em.

I. C. C. meaning Interstate Commerce commission. I. C. C.'s an old story. Everybody knows what those initials stand for. F. P. C. and F. C. C. (respectively Federal Power and Federal Commissions) are more recent.

O. P. M. and O. P. A. C. S. are quite up to date. O. P. M. is Director Bill Knudsen's Office of Production Management. O. P. A. C. S. is rather complicated. It stands for Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supplies.

Leon Henderson, the nation's ceiling-fixer on our living costs, is boss of it. The "S" at the tail end of it tends to give the impression that O. P. A. C. S. is plural—to suggest that one should say "O. P. A. C. S. are" rather than "O. P. A. C. S. is." An analysis of the whole thing, however, proves that "is" is the correct verb for it.

The Congressional directory contains a list, pages and pages long, of these government offices, commissions and miscellaneous agencies—such as A. D. A., B. T. A., W. A. P. W. A., T. V. A., C. S. C., F. T. C., S. E. C., G. A. O. and N. L. R. B., to mention just a few of 'em.

The directory doesn't yet include O. P. M. and O. P. A. C. S., though. They're too recent. Later editions will have 'em. As for O. S. R. D., that's only barely started. Its personnel is exceptionally large for a government office, and it's tremendously distinguished, but financially it operates unusually moderately, on a little allowance of a mere $10,000,000.

Its full name is Office of Scientific Research and Development. At its head, just conscripted by President Roosevelt to direct its activities, is Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of Washington's Carnegie Institution. Maybe O. S. R. D. will keep him too busy to continue as the C. I. S. president, but that's the job he was drafted from.

Ireland And Egypt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.

SOON or late this war, which two nations ago unexpectedly swung to the East and since has been concentrated in the great German-Russian struggle (now according to the experts, approaching its inevitable end), will swing back again. When it does, two relatively small nations will assume an importance not heretofore attributed to them.

UPON them—or rather, upon the fight over them—easily may hinge the final result of the war. One of these nations is Ireland; the other is Egypt. The first is officially neutral; the second is the "passive ally" of the British but not actively in the war—nor apt to be. Among the military strategists in Washington there is a conviction that Hitler plans, following the Russian campaign, to seize Ireland and that if he succeeds the British will be in dire straits.

OF THAT there is hardly any doubt and concern exists over the Irish situation. Nevertheless, that in Egypt may become equally critical. If the British should be driven out of that country, their status would be pretty desperate. The more vital of their so-called life lines would be severed and, without Mediterranean naval and Egyptian air bases, they would be unable to protect their possessions, operate their fleet or save their soldiers. They would be driven back into their own island, there to make a last stand.

A GRASP of these facts makes the role of Egypt, now a democratic country, appear much more important than has been generally appreciated. It is encouraging to report that, from the British standpoint, conditions there are better today than they have been at any time since the war began. In the first place, it is contended, Egypt is rendering a greater service as a passive ally than she could as an active one. She is living fully up to her treaty obligations toward the British. Considering the sentiment of her people, any course other than the one she has adopted would have been unwise and the results bad. As things are, the Egyptian army believes the British of a heavy burden in Egypt by taking on itself the burden of the defense of the military zones of the country, without inviting Italian and German bombing of the interior by active participation.

IN THE second place, the Hitler effort to capitalize his position as the world's greatest Jew baster, by stirring up Islamic opposition against England, has failed. What he is still trying to do is to turn to his advantage the enmity between Zionism and the Arabs, which exists around British policy in Palestine. His hope is that success in this attempt will facilitate his conquest of the Iraq oil fields. Egypt is the greatest Moslem power in the world and there is great hostility among the Moslem people toward the English attempt to convert the Holy Land into a national home for Jews.

THE MOHAMMEDANS deeply resent this effort. It is their Holy Land, as well as that of the Jews and Christians, and they are it has been said, prepared to die before surrendering to Zionism. The Nazi propaganda has been directed toward inflaming religious hatred and promoting the belief that should England, with American aid, win the war, the weight of the United States would be used irresistibly to press the British into reviving and revitalizing the Palestine plan. The idea is fostered that a British victory means that millions and millions of Jews from Europe would be brought into Egypt and ultimately take possession.

TO nullify this propaganda, the British in 1939 declared that they had no intention of converting Palestine into a Jewish state. Against the will of the Arab population, to some extent this declaration delayed (Continued On Page Six)

News Briefs From City Hall

Wednesday afternoon, in her home on Brooklyn avenue.
Sewing was the main pastime of the day, and, at an appropriate time, a dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Virginia Borman.

On September 10, the group will meet in the home of Mrs. Borman on Neshannock avenue.

Clarence Kane, formerly of Cleveland, but who has been living in Union township recently, was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct this morning at State and Grant street. It was reported he became involved with another man in an argument and threw a brick which failed to strike the man but did fly through a windshield of a 1941 Oldsmobile owned at the DiLullo used car lot. He will get a hearing tomorrow morning.

Council met today in city hall and adopted an ordinance adjusting the grade of South Croton avenue and Grove street extensions to conform with intersecting streets.

Upon recommendation of Director of safety D. O. Davies the city today decided to place a light at "Dagwood alley" which is the first alley in South Walnut street south of County Line street. The light was asked for by petitioners and Mayor Charles B. Mayne named the alley "Dagwood".

When solons convened today they went into committee and reported favorably from a committee a bill fixing the width of South Jefferson street between South Croton avenue extension to a point 750 feet south, at 60 feet. Recently the Pennsylvania Power company agreed to move back the sidewalk.

It is anticipated that within the near future the council will designate one of their members to represent the council on the Greater New Castle association board of directors as requested by the association recently.

Auto of C. W. Houk, Ellwood City, R. D. 2, was recovered in East Brook street today, but fishing equipment which had been in the car had been stolen.

Tip to spooners: Police have received complaints of "necking" parties at the West Clayton street baseball field and intend to do some scouting.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne and other councilmen attended the Sharon annual convention yesterday and today Finance Director J. L. Fink and Assessor James W. Cartwright are in Hazelton attending the Third Class Cities convention.

Mimic Warfare For 28th Soldiers

Troops Are In Virginia To Take Part In War
Maneuvers

(International News Service)
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Aug. 28.—The A. P. Hill military reservation assumed all the aspects of a vast war-like camp today as the 16,500 troops practiced small-scale tactical problems in preparation for mimic warfare that will climax the 28th Division's three-weeks' encampment.

The division's base camp is situated in the Virginia hills extending more than three miles along U. S. Highway 17. The terrain is rolling and heavily wooded and is considered ideal for maneuvers by Maj. Gen. Edward Martin, division commander.

General Martin and his aides made reconnaissance tours of the 40,000 acres to familiarize themselves with the locale and make plans for the extensive sham battle that will get underway later this week.

The 10 planes of the 103rd Observation Squadron, under the command of Maj. E. M. Scattergood, assisted in the reconnaissance tours by making flights over the reservation from the base field at Nottingham, near Fredericksburg.

Meanwhile, the men are living in a vast tent city, for the most part left standing by the departing 44th

Division. A few additional tents, however, had to be erected.

Combat teams were lined up to work out problems which will be put to use when the entire division takes the field. A team composed of the 11th Infantry and the First Battalion, 100th Field Artillery, operated against the 112th Infantry and the Second Battalion, 100th Field Artillery.

The 100th Infantry, with the First Battalion, 107th Field Artillery, formed another combat team and ranged against the 110th Infantry and the Second Battalion, 107th Field Artillery.

Christian Science War Relief Work

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—One war relief activity which has been little publicized is The Christian Science War Relief Committee, with main offices at 237 Huntington avenue, Boston, Massachusetts. Two thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine cases—half a million garments—valued at $489,368.23, in the nine months of the committee's existence, in their record to date.

The work is an activity of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, and branch Christian Science churches throughout America. Only new garments or those comparable to new are accepted by the committee. These are furnished almost entirely by members of the Christian Science organization. They are shipped to a central Christian Science committee, in London, where they are allocated to different almoners in England and Scotland. The work is in the hands of members of the Christian denomination until the garments are distributed. They are gladly given to any person in need, regardless of denomination.

"Fair Prices" For Gasoline Issued

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—A special senate committee today opened an investigation into the petroleum situation as Price Control Administrator Leon Henderson moved to check spiraling gasoline prices.

Henderson issued a "recommended" but not mandatory, price schedule for gasoline in 40 major cities of the New England and Middle Atlantic seaboard.

The schedule established "fair prices" ranging from 16.5 cents per gallon in Washington to 20.1 cents in Manchester, N. H., including taxes, as a "guide to both motorists and service station operators."

The five man senate committee was created earlier this week under a resolution sponsored by Sen. Macloney, D. Conn. The investigation for the present will be confined to hearing testimony of administration and industry experts.

Meanwhile the oil coordinator's office and the maritime commission jointly announced formation of a tanker control board, to coordinate the operations and use of all American oil tankers in an effort to remedy the oil shortage.

Henderson said that while the price schedule is not mandatory, the prices listed are the maximum "which motorists should pay." He said that it is expected that initial prices, particularly over the Labor Day week end, will be below those listed.

The Great Game Of Politics

Moslem resentment but some still exists. Egyptians are anti-Fascists and anti-Nazi but they are torn emotionally when they hear an American Administration Senator say that Palestine must be converted into a Jewish national home as a vital part of the just world order when the present conflict is over. That sort of Senatorial outburst inflames anti-British and anti-American feeling in a friendly nation. It plays directly into Hitler's hands, whose game is to array the Moslem world against the British.

DEEPLY as they feel on this subject, Egyptian statesmen recognize the sinister motive back of the German propaganda and the danger to themselves of yielding to it. Those best informed on Egyptian affairs give large credit for its successful refutation to the young King Farouk, who is greatly loved by the Egyptian people and whose attitude has done much to ameliorate the natural anti-British feeling which springs from the long struggle to throw off the British yoke and achieve independence.

IT IS the King more than anyone else who has insisted upon his country measuring fully up to the treaty requirements by which the British are given practically unlimited "elbow room" in Egypt for their military and air forces, without which they could not survive for a minute in the Mediterranean. Summing up the situation, those who know it best say that while Egypt is not actually in the battle line, she is more effective than if she were. There is no doubt of the strong anti-Nazi feeling of the people—and none that when the big test comes, as it surely will, they will stand steady. Though there is a racial gulf between the Egyptian and the Englishman which does not exist between the Englishman and the Irishman, many post-Edwardians have more confidence in the Egyptian conviction that a British victory is linked with their own interests than they have in any Irish feeling on that subject—of which there has been no really reassuring evidence up to now.

What's What At A Glance

clusive of a lot of foreign savants who are refugees in our midst at present. For instance, Doc Einstein, inventor of relativity. And when I say savants, I mean savantesses also. There are women wizards ("witch" is a kind of a mean term), as well as masculine wizards, in Doc Bush's O. S. R. D. If there's a qualified savant or savantess in the country who hasn't been in the doc's dragnet for selectees, he or she has been done an injustice and ought to come forward and raise a holler by enlisting in the ranks of the forcibly chosen inductees.

Of course, the doc's specialists will concentrate on the production of new and more than ever destructive sorts of weapons and ammunition and improved planes and things.

They're trying to hit on a gasoline that won't explode except in the cylinders of the auto or plane or tank where it's desired to have it do so. So enclosed, it's urgently necessary for it to tear loose, but it's far from pleasant to have it go off when some saboteur puts a match to it. Dynamite, for example, busts violently when coked up, but, when unconfined, simply burns peaceably, and can be put out by squirting water on it. That's the quality of gasoline O. S. R. D. is tinkering with.

Surgery and doctoring in general are being studied furiously. This line of investigation may lead to discoveries that'll have their utility in the interest of civilian patients later, but it's for military purposes that O. S. R. D. is digging into it just now.

O. S. R. D. is on the trail of germs, likewise. Nominally the notion is to match and nullify the mean type of 'em, such as are likely to be prevalent when wars are raging. It might be that bad germs would be nice to sprinkle around in enemy territory, though it isn't mentioned that that's O. S. R. D.'s purpose in looking for 'em. It wouldn't be civilized warfare. As if there IS any such thing!

Weather Research
Weather's important. Navies especially are dependent on it. That's a subject that's being probed intensively.

And psychology enters into the equation. We hear a lot these days about a "war of nerves." Also there's the item of morale. I've seen it referred to in print as "morals," but I think that's a typographical error or something.

Well, all that stuff's within the realm of psychology—mentality. It takes alienists (doctors for crazy folks) to understand it. O. S. R. D. has 'em at it.

Isn't all that super-scientific!

Iceland Gets Prosperity And Many Complications By Arrival Of U. S. Troops

(This is the fourth in a series of reports by Walter Kiernan, International News Service staff correspondent, who travelled to Iceland, the furthestmost northern outpost of the United States armed forces, with a naval convoy.)

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 16.—(Delayed)—Arrival of the American troops is bringing Iceland prosperity—and complications—she never before has known.

American dollars backed by the resources of the United States flow into the commerce of the island for high-priced goods with change in kronurs—Iceland's flat money.

The krona is quoted at 6.50 to the dollar but six kronurs and 50 aurs buy precious little for the visitor in Reykjavik where merchants shelves are stocked with imported merchandise from England from Denmark and from the United States.

But if Iceland is prospering thru the arrival of the Americans and the prior arrival of the British she also is sacrificing for British and Americans are very like the house-guests who crowd the host into his own linen closet and take over the rest of the establishment for their own use.

Must Learn English
In this new, strange, fopsy-turvy world of his the native Icander is forced in self defense to learn to speak and understand English; he is forced to drive on the wrong side of the road and many times forced off the road altogether by a swift moving motor convoy.

His daughters are smiling at the Americans, his peace has been shattered, his quiet streets are filled with men and trucks and cars. He is being "protected against invasion" at the cost of raw nerves and strained patience.

Officially he says nothing but unofficially he has his ideas of that "protection". First he feels that the occupation of his country by the British and Americans is an invitation to attack. Second he feels that occupation by friends can become as burdensome as occupation by enemies.

A houseful of police is comforting protection against the entry of a burglar but when the police bring their pajamas and announce they are staying indefinitely and will make a few major alterations in the house, the burglar might be preferable.

Iceland has nothing anyone would want except a ladder stretching to Greenland and the Americas and despite high-sounding phrases of what is being done for him, the Icander knows he has been called upon to play the pawn in a major chess game of planes, guns, ships and men.

There was no attack on Iceland until the British arrived and dug their air-raid shelters, placed their guns and piled their sandbags. There have been bomber attacks since the Icander has his own ideas of who the bombs were intended for.

To Preserve Sovereignty
Britain and America have solemnly sworn to preserve the sovereignty of the islands, the Icander still rules his own castle but his freedom becomes more daily as that of the American Indian or the native resident of India.

He is swept off his own sidewalks by the press of friends. His fishing boats lay at their wharves unable to clear for the rush of naval traffic or at anchor unable to find an unoccupied wharf.

His favorite coffeehouse is a confusion of forefingers aiming at a wanted pastry, southern draws attempting to translate dollars into kronurs, cockney sputters directed to demure island maids and hobnail shoes clattering on the floors.

Of the two protectors, the Icander (as he calls himself) appears to prefer the American or at least his daughter does.

We went ashore with the first liberty party and experts of the Atlantic fleet who have appraised the fair sex in far corners of the world immediately classified the local species as "milltown". Low heeled shoes, depressing grey stockings, absence of make-up, run-of-the-mill dresses and hats appeared to be standard for the local belles. A killed Highlander advised that it was standard.

The following day—a week day with nothing special about it—the streets were jammed with sailors off the destroyers, cruisers, transports, cargo and battleship of our convoy and with troops who had come in with us. They also were filled with yesterday's girls in high-heeled slippers, warm-toned hosiery, brighter dresses, snapper hats and with redder cheeks and lips.

The effect was startling but more so on the British military and male Icanders than on the Americans. The former were a "can this be the same place?" expression while the Americans who had not been off their ship until today took it as a matter of belief that the Icelandic girl always wears high heels and pretty dresses, in dusty, rocky Reykjavik.

However, the island girl moves within a set of rigid conventions which slows the "haven't we met before" boys to a walk.

The News Co.
Gentlemen:

Just wanted you to know that the Mullenowners, both great and small desire me to express to you and your wonderful news force, which includes all from the owner down to the "Devil" their appreciation of your generosity in throwing open your news columns for the Mullenowners Reunion.

These annual events require a good bit of printers ink and news space and you have been most kind and generous to print considerable about the affairs. However, they are most interesting and enjoyed by the old timers who went to school in the brick building west of the Shenango River. Just why you have never claimed relations with the Mullenowners is more than we can understand Fred, as there are no Mullenowners living today old enough to deny the fact that you never attended school there.

We understand you attended Croton, Pearson street, Martin Gantz and several others, so that one more would not be out of place. With kindest personal regards to you and your wonderful staff, I remain,

Cordially Yours,

Dancer Alleges Fake Marriage

Files Suit For $50,000
Against Broadway Producer, As Result

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Charging that she had been the victim of a fake marriage ceremony, Ruth Williamson Palmer, red-haired musical comedy dancer, today filed a $50,000 suit against Frank L. Teller, Broadway producer and member of a wealthy Philadelphia family.
The dancer, who said she was the widow of George Palmer, a member of the wealthy Palmer family of Chicago, said she went through what she thought was a marriage ceremony with Teller on March 11, 1940, in Reno, Nev. after she had accepted his proposal.
"He got a license and a wedding ring, took me to the county courthouse, and introduced me to a judge, who, he said, was a friend of his," she explained. "The man had a black robe on, so I took for granted he was really a judge."
She said she received a signed marriage "certificate" and lived with Teller until last January when they broke up. Teller, she said, told her that she could never get alimony because they never had been legally married.

The "judge," the dancer quoted him as saying, was just a man dressed up for the occasion. "He well knew that unless we were married I would not live with him," she said. According to the papers filed by her attorney, she seeks the $50,000 because of the mental and physical anguish caused by the alleged fake ceremony.

Wife Of Envoy Hurt In Fall

(International News Service)
VICHY, France, Aug. 28.—Mme. de Brinon, wife of the Vichy government's envoy to Paris, received a fractured skull today while riding a bicycle in the Pyrenees mountains.
No one witnessed the accident but officials said it evidently was the result of the poor state of the roads and Mme. de Brinon's lack of experience as a bicyclist.
BEATS GAS CUREW
(International News Service)
Boston.—He brought his wife to Boston to visit a physician and was on his way to Franklin to milk his cows when his automobile ran of gasoline, a Franklin farmer told police who found him stranded in Mattapan after the 7 p. m. curfew hour on gasoline sales. Police ruled the case was an emergency and arranged with a garage to give the Franklin man sufficient gasoline to get home.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Rats, ticks and fleas are the most notorious disease carriers. Rats are the triple-threat health menace.
They may have the disease germs on their own bodies.
They also carry ticks and fleas which in turn carry disease germs. Rats are known to transmit at least six major diseases.
Bubonic plague and typhus fever. Pneumonia plague, jaundice are the two most important.
Mange and tapeworm are included. Rats are suspected of spreading other diseases too.
Foot and mouth disease, sleeping sickness and others are added. Rat-bite fever is now spreading northward and inland.
The symptoms are similar but more severe than those of influenza. Rats should be killed wherever found and discouraged by cleanliness.
Hedges of deciduous plants may be given the last shearing of the year and any of the woody plants which have made unusual or awkward growths may be cut back before the winter storms come, but pruning, as a rule is not an autumn job.
Originally, butter was spread with the thumb, with Charles II of Sweden setting the fashion.

Can Company Picnic Event

Gathering in the picnic grove, at Cascade Park, Wednesday evening, employees of the American Can company and their families enjoyed their annual corn roast.
Approximately five hundred were served a tasty menu of corn and wieners. Afterwards, contests were planned for the grown-ups, while the children enjoyed the park amusements. Dancing was in vogue, from nine to twelve.
Special guests were R. K. Dickey, assistant district superintendent, and B. R. Jackson, assistant district industrial relations supervisor, both from Chicago, Illinois.

Old Timer Recalls His Early Days Here

Merle J. Harris of 668 Fourth avenue, New Kensington, who is visiting with his sister, Mrs. C. A. Martin, 613 East Main street, called at The News office Wednesday.
He states that he was born in this city in 1874, leaving in 1889 from North Beaver street for Jeanette, where he was employed in the flint glass business.
As a paper-boy, he sold The News for seven years, beginning at the age of 8. He sold bottles to get pennies to buy the papers.
Among his customers were R. M. Allen tobacco shop, Dr. Linville, Dr. Lee, Mr. Tidball of Leslie hotel, Mr. Cubbison, jeweler, later of Fountain Inn; Mr. Hahner, grocer; Mr. Lusk, druggist; Bob Whaley, shoe store, and "Nocks" baseball player, and Mr. Strimater, dry goods store.
Mr. Harris attended school at Martin Gantz and remembered the late Judge Thomas Dickey as a schoolmate.
As a boy he helped carry spikes when the "Nip" N. Y. and Penna railroad was being built here. He also recollected Mr. Sankey bringing sand down the old canal, in small boats, from about two miles above the water works. The boats were drawn by horses walking alongside the canal, with ropes attached to the boats.

Youth Injured At Works Center

Bert Hannold, aged 23, who is stationed at the N.Y.A. Work Experience Center in Cunningham Park, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, Wednesday afternoon at 4:35 o'clock, for an injury of his hand.
Hannold was working in the automobile repair shop, when a screwdriver slipped through his fingers.

Make Plans For Labor Day Here

New Castle's labor hosts will observe Labor Day in an informal all-day observance at Cascade Park, as they have for several years past, it was announced this morning.
An afternoon sports program will highlight the celebration, according to leaders of the New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly, central labor organization here for nearly 30 affiliated union locals.
Committees for the day, appointed some time ago, are planning entertainment which will make things interesting for the labor groups and their families.
It was said that Labor Day activity in some of the district mills, ordered to keep America's production up for national defense, would tend to keep some from attending the park affair.

Hemlocks, firs, pines, spruces and others are often moved successfully at this season, especially if the weather is favorable and if they are dug with large solid balls of earth. They should be well mulched, watered and staked after being transplanted.

Nutrition Factor In Defense Work

Red Cross Recognizes Need For Training Nation In Food
Values

The number of American Red Cross chapters offering nutrition courses has more than trebled during the past year as a result of increased interest in home defense projects, it was announced here by Mrs. William Cosel, chairman food and nutrition.

Malnutrition as it exists today among some 45,000,000 of our people is proving a serious factor in slowing up our defenses.

Of 1,000,000 men examined by the Selective Service and about 560,000 examined by the army, a total of 300,000 have been found unfit for military service. It has been estimated that approximately a third of these rejections can be traced directly or indirectly to nutritional deficiencies.

With such conditions existing among our young men between the ages of 21 and 36, the effect of malnutrition on the national welfare as a whole rears itself as an acute problem.

At the request of Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, the Red Cross is planning further expansion of nutrition activities through its chapters. Arrangements are under way for the expansion to be geared into the local councils of civilian defense. The Lawrence county chapter is offering classes in food and nutrition under the supervision of Mrs. Cosel, chairman and Mrs. Harold Glenn, instructor.

RED CROSS BUILDING ARMY CAMP STRUCTURES

An American Red Cross construction program involving $1,250,000 now is under way to provide Red Cross headquarters buildings for its services in 62 camps and posts of the United States Army, Chairman Ralph P. Davis of the Lawrence county chapter announced today.

The buildings will facilitate operation of the Red Cross services to the armed forces. With a Red Cross building, designed for efficient operation, in each camp, the organization will be better equipped to carry out its congressional charter obligation of maintaining liaison between the military and civilian population.

Bids will be let on a competitive basis with firms in communities adjacent to each individual building project invited to participate.

There is a lot of difference between "soon" and "quickly." We wish to die quickly, but not soon, please.

Men's Garden Club Enjoys Corn Roast

Annual Event Takes Place
At Black Home In East
Brook Wednesday

A large banner with the Men's Garden Club motto, "New Castle Beautiful," formed the background for the stage setting at the annual corn roast given by members of the club Wednesday evening at the home of S. A. and Charles Black, in East Brook.

After partaking of a plentiful serving of corn, wieners and cheese sandwiches, tomatoes, onions and all the trimmings including several helpings of coffee, the guests in attendance left the hillside and went to the gardens for the evening's program. The gardens were beautifully lighted for the event through the courtesy of the Pennsylvania Power Co., under the direction of Charles N. Giddings. The stage motto banner was a gift of Lou Peersall.

After opening remarks by the general chairman, Prof. Charles G. Lindner who welcomed the group and expressed thanks to the various committees, and the extending of a general vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Black for their unflinching hospitality, he introduced the program chairman, J. W. Anderson. Following a salute to the flag, in unison with heads bared to a large flag gently blowing in the evening breeze, William McCombs led the group in singing "America" and several other community songs, with Mrs. C. G. Lindner as accompanist.

Mrs. J. W. Moorehead then delighted the audience by singing Joyce Kilmer's "Trees" and responded to an encore by singing "God Bless America" with the audience joining in the last chorus. Mrs. Lindner accompanied Mrs. Moorehead, also. Lillian and Donna Reynolds favored the group with several instrumental and vocal duets and were followed by Miss Shirley Cadman in a tap dance with her mother, Mrs. C. R. Cadman, at the piano.

The Heckart sisters, Carrie, Leona and Wilma, with their mother, Mrs. Mike Heckart, at the piano, sang several delightful numbers. After more community songs, the program was concluded with bursts of aerial bombs and a display of fireworks on the hillside while the audience sang the "Star Spangled Banner" ending another of the Men's Garden Club's famous corn roasts in a blaze of glory.

During the evening, Mr. Anderson fittingly presented several gifts of recognition from the club, as follows: to Mrs. S. A. Black, a beautiful bouquet of flowers for the large spot she occupies in the heart of Men's Garden Club members; to the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brennan as the youngest person in attendance; to Charles Black for his untiring labor in preparing for the corn roast; to Prof. Lindner for his conscientious and generous work in the interest of the garden club; to Dr. Norris A. White as the newest member of the club, and to a few members of the audience, who were given gift boxes.

The necessity of postponing the corn roast from Tuesday to Wednesday night, owing to rain, caused a smaller attendance than usual, but interest and spirit on the part of those attending made up for this.

Next meeting of the Men's Garden Club will be at the Jordan State Game Farm on Tuesday, September 2. A flower show is to be held in the Lawrence Auto sales rooms on Friday and Saturday, September 12 and 13.

Strike Threat At Warren Plant

(International News Service)
WARREN, O., Aug. 28.—A request that the government take over the strike-threatened Warren plant of the Ohio Public Service Co., today was on its way to President Roosevelt and Sidney Hillman, co-director of the office of production management, in an attempt to end a jurisdictional dispute.

A walkout of C. I. O. utility workers originally scheduled for last Thursday was postponed until next Wednesday at midnight at the request of John Steelman, head of the federal labor mediation board. The request that the government take over the plant was made by Harold J. Straub, national director of the U. W. O. C., who said a power strike would seriously curtail vital defense industries in this area, including the Ravenna arsenal plant.

Homecoming At Clinton Church

Methodist Congregation To Have Memorial Service Sunday Afternoon For Founder

Plans are being completed for the homecoming to be held at Clinton Methodist church, Wampum, R. D. 2, on Sunday, August 31. Sunday school is scheduled for 10:30 a. m. (D. S. T.) with a memorial service to be held at 2:30 (D. S. T.).

At the memorial service, Dr. J. D. Van Horn, the district superintendent, will preach, and Dr. D. R. Graham, former district superintendent, will offer the prayer. All former pastors and neighboring pastors are invited and will participate in the service.

The memorial will be for the founder, the Rev. John Somerville, who founded this church in 1832, and is to be placed on the church lawn near the walk. A brass tube will be placed in the base of the memorial, with the names of all those present, to be opened at a future date.

Rev. William Ralph Wigton is pastor of this church. The committee in charge of the homecoming including: Paul E. Aley, chairman; Elmer Suter, S. V. Badger, James Snyder, L. C. McQuiston, Robert Straley, Harry A. Shearer, William Market, Don Cameron, Charles Market, Elias Barber, William S. Davis, Farrell Carroll, Mrs. Charles Market, Mrs. Laura Mills, Mrs. Florence Day, Mrs. Harry Laughlin, Miss Jennie McKim, Miss Anna Gill, Mrs. Don Cameron, Mrs. Dorothy Daugherty Hogue, Mrs. Paul E. Aley, Mrs. O. R. Jones, Mrs. Elizabeth Deal, Mrs. Grace Gordon, Miss Elizabeth Young, Mrs. Florence E. Noggle and Miss Mabel Frazier.

City Elks March In Pottsville Parade

Four prominent members of the New Castle Elks Lodge who will march this afternoon in a parade closing the 1941 convention of the Pennsylvania State Elks' Association at Pottsville are Clark H. Buell, newly appointed district deputy grand exalted ruler in this section, and Dr. T. P. Nugent, county coroner, James McGivern and Lodge Secretary Frank L. Clinefelter, the three official delegates. The 1938 parade of the Elks was a sight New Castle will long remember.

TOBACCO SHORTAGE IS BEING FELT BY ROYAL FAMILY

(International News Service)
LONDON—King George VI, like the majority of his subjects is today affected by the cigaret shortage in wartime Britain.

In consequence His Majesty has had to cut down on his smoking, rationing himself to 15 cigsarets a day.

The King, who in normal times smokes about 20 cigarets a day, prefers a Turkish brand. He had a stock of them, but this is now dwindling. He buys them retail and therefore has the same difficulty in getting them as every other customer.

His Majesty smokes his first cigaret after breakfast. While going through his letters he has one or two, and always lights up another at 11 o'clock when he stops work for 10 minutes to have a cup of tea. Queen Elizabeth has never been a heavy smoker. Of late, however, she has stopped smoking altogether.

Of all the nations allied with Germany in the last war, Turkey was the last to make peace, the first to recover from defeat, and the only nation on the losing side with whom terms were negotiated rather than imposed.

Work At School Nearly Completed

Getting Ready For Fall Semester Which Opens Next Week At Mahoning School

Members of the regular custodial force of the Mahoning school, aided by a few extra workmen, are almost completed with their routine repair work for this summer.

The work is being rushed this week, in order that it will have been completed by next week, when the fall semester is due to begin.

All of the floors in the building have been given a good coating of oil and are in fine shape. The benches in the athletic department have been painted, and the gymnasium floor has been refinished, and new game marking lines painted on it.

Many new panes of glass have been put in place, and the putty on others mended. When next week rolls around, the Mahoning school building will be in first class condition.

Altar Boys Take Pittsburgh Trip

Educational Trip And Outing Held By Altar Boys, Pastor, Of St. Margaret's Church

Altar boys of St. Margaret's Catholic church, together with their pastor, the Rev. Fr. Michael P. Hinnebusch, enjoyed an outing in the form of an educational trip in Pittsburgh, on Wednesday.

The outing was held all day, and the group motored to the various interesting and educational spots in the city. They visited the radio stations, museum, University of Pittsburgh, Duquesne University and Carnegie Tech and the Highland Park zoo.

In the evening supper was enjoyed at the Allegheny county airport. Every year the altar boys and their pastor have an outing and the boys attending were: James Falk, Francis Thompson, Francis Valley, Lynn Valley, Thomas Ford and Henry Krause. Two other altar boys, Stephen and Joseph Prekopi, were unable to attend.

Most Of Old Building Torn Down In Ward

Workmen have almost completed the job of tearing down the old St. Margaret's society building, South Liberty street.

The brick walls for the upper two floors have all been torn down and the first floor is rapidly disappearing. As no plans have been made for the site yet, the old cellar excavation will undoubtedly be filled in.

Pour About 100 Feet Of Sidewalk

Workmen made excellent progress during their first day of work in building new sidewalks for East Cherry street, and at the close of work Wednesday, more than 100 feet of concrete had been poured. A large crew is working on the project, laying walks from the Pennsylvania railroad tracks to the Bolt street intersection. Workmen started preparing the south side of the street for walks on Wednesday, also.

WORKING ON TRACK.
Workmen were replacing sections of the track and switch mechanism at the East Cherry street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad Wednesday.

Rev. Paul Arow At First Baptist

At the Sunday morning service, of the First Baptist church, Rev. Paul Arow, of Canandaigua, New York, formerly of this city, will deliver the sermon. His subject will be "Stunted Trees." Rev. Arow will teach the Men's Bible class during the Sunday school session. There will be no evening service, on account of the Gymnasium Games singing festival being held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, Sunday afternoon and evening.

Hanna Injured In Fall From Roof

Robert Hanna, aged 46 years, of 119 East street, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, recovering from injuries received when he fell from the roof of a home on Clemore Boulevard at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Hanna, a plumber, is employed with the Manufacturers Distributing Company. X-Rays have been taken to determine the full extent of his injuries. The hospital report this morning revealed that he had a fair night.

It is easy to tell statesmen from demagogues now. The demagogues are criticizing what is wise.

Musicians Have Reunion In Ward

Three well-known local musicians who are now on the road with orchestras had a reunion recently when they happened to have the same vacation periods and arrived in town at the same time.

Roger Pecano, who plays with Tommy Reynolds orchestra; Nick Caiazza who is a member of Mugsie Spaniards band; and Danny Di-Thomas from Lee Leali dance orchestra are the musicians.

While here, parties were held in their honor by Al Colella, Wabash avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Di-Thomas, South Cedar street and by Mr. and Mrs. John Pecano, North Wayne street.

Two Union Church Services Remain

Only two more services yet remain in the schedule for Mahoningtown churches.

The service this coming Sunday night, August 31, will be held in the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church with Rev. D. J. Blasdel, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church delivering the sermon.

The closing service for the year will be held on Sunday night, September 7, in the Madison Avenue Christian church, with Rev. John E. Myers, Jr., pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church in charge.

HILL REPAIRED.

The holes that have developed in the surface of the East Cherry street hill, have been temporarily filled in with earth. This road is widely travelled by persons en route to and from the B. & O. shops and the Universal Sanitary Pottery company.

MAKING REPAIRS

Workmen from the local gas company made an opening in East Cherry street at the east end of the bridge over the Shenango river Wednesday, to make repairs to the gas line.

HOUSES SCARCE.

According to local real estate men, houses in this district are exceptionally scarce at the present time. With the recent increase in employment, most every available house was quickly rented.

AIDED IN SERVING.

The name of Mrs. Kenneth Owens was unintentionally omitted from the write up concerning the meeting of the Birthday club that appeared in The News Wednesday.

Mrs. Owens aided the hostess in serving the luncheon.

Ellwood High Squad Starts Grid Workouts

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—Football coaches, traditionally, are all incorrigible gloomers. It's a universal attitude throughout the trade, like the matter-of-fact cheerfulness of trained nurses or the police's dyspeptic point of view. Yet here we have the Ellwood City high school grid general rose-colored in his outlook, as described to local civic clubs during the week. It's a miracle, and nothing less!

And with last year's formidable machine riddled by graduation it will be a miracle made possible with endless hours of grueling work by Head Coach Thurman F. "Dutch" Croft and his assistant line coach, Howard B. Gills, if they are able to mold a strong aggregation from the inexperienced but very willing material on hand. Skeptics are reminded that Croft and Gills in their four years regime here have each year turned out teams that, like "the man on the flying trapeze," soared through tough schedules with "the greatest of ease," leaving surprised but defeated gridsters along the way. You may be sure that the coaches will do everything in their power to continue their shining record.

Thirty-three boys are out on the practice field every day, and they are being drilled and double-drilled in fundamentals at the present time. According to Croft, they are the largest, in weight, of any squad he has had here, but unless they can develop speed the weight will not be an advantage. By large, football is still played 10 yards in four downs, and that's what will be emphasized here, leaving the razzle-dazzle to the fast, experienced teams, Croft states.

At present the line is far more promising than the backfield. Bob Tammara is the only end of the let-termen back and will likely hold down one of the wing spots, with Houk and Clark fighting it out for the other terminal post.

Tackle looms as the brightest spot for the coming season, as in Ross and Dudick Croft has two letter-men who should fill the bill.

Center looms as the toughest problem in the line. Captain Al Pishonieri held down the position for the past four years, and finding his successor is going to be one of the problems that make coaches wish they had chosen some other profession. Croft hopes to fill the position by switching Carl Lordon, the only letterman back returning, to the pivotal spot, leaving Earl Tanner and Bruno Pishonieri, juniors, on hand for call.

The backfield is all one big question mark. There isn't a single veteran backfield player back this year. "Just to show you how desperate we are," Croft said laughingly, "we have drafted one of the managers, Coach, and placed him in one of the wing back positions." George Moskal has the other half-back position at present. Big Harry Hughes has been converted from a tackle to the quarterback spot; and Mike Sekulski, from last year's junior high team, is holding down the fullback berth.

Al Conti, a fullback in last year's junior high team, has not reported yet, but is expected to be out when school starts, as are Bob Wallace and Albert Wilson. At present some of the aspirants are out with poison ivy.

"Game experience by players in key positions is the greatest lack," Croft said. "And we cannot be in our best form until the season is under way."

Those gone from the great 1940 aggregation are: Seetch and Matlocks, ends; Taylor, guard; Pishonieri, center; Rubino, Cartwright, Reino, Matrangoli and Morrison, backs. Nick DeCaria, a tail back, has secured employment and will not return to school.

The first game is slated for Friday, Sept. 12, when Ellwood will meet Union township at Lincoln field. It will be a history-making occasion, being the first game to be played under the new, and said to be superlative, lighting system.

There are five home games, namely, Union township, Munhall, Monaca and Beaver Falls, the latter to be an afternoon game in November. Ellwood plays at Rochester, Butler, Aliquippa and New Brighton, the latter being the only daytime contest.

Combined Church Picnic Successful

Providence Baptists and North Sewickley Presbyterians Assembled at cwing Park

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—"The most enjoyable and the most successful of such events in years" was the report given for the annual combined picnic of the Providence Baptist and North Sewickley Presbyterian churches, which took place on Wednesday at Ewing Park.

About 150 members of the two churches participated. The event began with the serving of a bountiful basket dinner.

In the afternoon, an extensive and clever sports program for all age groups was directed by Keith Hazen and Harry McCloskey with prizes going to twenty-five winners. Most amusing was the rolling pin contest for women. Each contestant was given three rolling pins to throw at a life-sized comical image of a man, with Mrs. Thomas Czar, who hit each time, being the winner. A ball game was enjoyed with the North Sewickley team winning over the Baptist by a 9 to 3 count.

Nice awards went to Mrs. Stevenson, the loveliest mother; Samuel Hazen, the oldest father; Mrs. Alvin Lorraine, the youngest mother; and her baby, Carol Lee, the youngest daughter.

Much credit for the fine success of the affair is due the many committees.

Mahoning Team Wins First Title Contest

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—Turning the tables, the Mahoning Methodist softball team, winner of the New Castle church league championship, defeated the North Sewickley Presbyterians, champs of the Ellwood league, in a game played last night. The final score was 8 to 7. This was the third game in a series to determine the county champions with the first two games having been won by the local team. The next game will be played on Tuesday evening at the armory field, Prisco, and should the Methodists win still another game will be necessary to determine the winners.

Ross was the losing and Culbertson the winning pitcher. Best hitters for Mahoning were Denny, Howard and Calvert and leading batters for the locals were Shaffer and Pflugh.

Ellwood Elks Are Champions

Win Ritualistic Championship At Pottsville

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 28.—The Pennsylvania Elks closed their annual state convention today, with the installation of officers and parade among the concluding events. The State Elks Association's ritualistic championship was awarded to Ellwood City lodge No. 1356, which scored 99.27 point 1.9908 for Home-stead lodge No. 650, state champions for the past three years.

Polyanna Club Enjoys Dinner

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—A bounteous tureen dinner was enjoyed by members and guests of the Polyanna club on Wednesday when they were welcomed for the annual August meeting at the home of Mrs. Ida Cunningham, Ellwood-New Castle road.

Mrs. A. J. Cole and daughter Mary Ellen, Rochester, were out-of-town participants and joined the other 25 in the pleasant affair.

After the dinner, amusing games and contests were directed by Mrs. Walter Houk and Mrs. Ellis Guy with the award winners being Mrs. R. R. Reed, Mrs. Frank Blaine and Mrs. Myrtle Moon.

For the next meeting on Wednesday, September 17, at the home of Mrs. Dewey Cunningham, New Castle road, an election of officers was planned.

Former Local Girl To Wed Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—Many local relatives and friends will be interested to learn of the approaching marriage of Miss Naomi Gaylo Holtz, daughter of Mrs. Nancy Gaylo Washington, D. C., to John A. Pritchard of Washington. The Holtzes formerly resided in this city. The ceremony will be performed on Saturday, August 30, at 9:30 o'clock at a Washington Methodist church by Rev. Baum.

After the rites, the couple will leave on a motor trip to visit the bridegroom's parents in North Dakota. Returning they will be at home to their friends at 3107 Sixteenth street N. W., Washington, D. C.

SEWING GROUP MEETS WEDNESDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—The K. Sewing club members were welcomed last evening at the home of Misses Myrtle and Evelyn Kingston, Todd avenue.

The evening was devoted to sewing, with the hostess serving a delicious lunch.

Another meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Bernard Kuben, Crescent avenue.

OFFICE WORKERS UNION

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—To hear the contract between office employees and the U. S. Steel company, granting a wage increase, read and defined, Richard McKee, president of the office workers union of the National Tube company, has called a meeting of members for Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the S. W. O. C. headquarters, Lawrence avenue.

Softball Banquet Plans Are Made

Neighborhood League To Have Second Annual Event On September 11

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—Arthur Smith, Rev. L. A. Lightfritz and Harry McCloskey, special committee, have completed arrangements for the second annual banquet of the Neighborhood Church Softball league to be held on Saturday evening, September 6, at the North Sewickley Presbyterian church.

Glenn W. Johnston, principal of Shenango high school, and an old-time baseball player, has been secured as the main speaker. Other speakers will be Rev. Samuel Driggs of West Bridgewater, who made such a hit last year, and Thurman F. Croft, high school football coach. Trophies to the winning team, the North Sewickley Presbyterians, will be presented by R. J. Schill, playgrounds supervisor.

Rev. L. A. Lightfritz, who knows all of the players and their "pet pees", and who delighted the group last year with his clever emceeing will again be toastmaster. Other program features are also being planned. The Women's Missionary society of the hostess church will serve the dinner and promises the banqueters a sumptuous meal. The banqueters, which will be closed this Saturday evening, may be made with any of the six team managers. Softball fans are invited to attend.

EAGLES AUXILIARY

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—A regular meeting of the Eagles Lodge Auxiliary will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the lodge rooms with cards and bingo to follow the meeting.

Presbyterian Women Assemble At Park

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—One of the most pleasant social activities of Wednesday was a social meeting of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian church held at Ewing Park grove.

Twenty-five members and one special guest, Mrs. Thomas R. Wilson, attended. At noon, a tempting luncheon was enjoyed with the social committee in charge.

Wednesday, September 24, is the date of the next meeting.

MRS. CHARLES BROWN HAS BOOSTER MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—Mrs. Charles Brown pleasantly entertained members of the Booster club of the Park Gate Baptist church on Wednesday for the August meeting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Kirchner, of Jewett.

Special guests were Miss Nedra Bazich, Ellwood; Mrs. Floyd Cunningham, Newport; and Mrs. Bert Baker, New Brighton.

The day was spent with fancy work as the diversion and at noon the hostess served a tempting dinner. Mrs. John Wright conducted the meeting.

On Wednesday, September 24, another meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Raymond Dallenbach, Park Gate.

W. B. A. LODGE

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—With Mrs. Edna Steinbeck in charge, a regular meeting of the W. B. A. lodge was held last night at the back hall Mrs. Ethel Thomas managing deputy, New Castle, was a special guest.

Another meeting will be held on Wednesday, September 10.

HARRIET GORDON CLASS HAS PICNIC

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—Members of the Harriet Gordon class of the Wurttemberg U. P. church motored to Idora Park, Youngstown, last evening where they had a most enjoyable picnic and outing.

Seventeen members and two guests, Mrs. Robert Wimer and Mrs. Lester Pander, participated. Another meeting will be held during the latter part of September.

United Tube Corp. Resumes Operations

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—The plant of the United Tube corporation which was closed on Wednesday by an "outlaw" strike resumed operations at 7 o'clock this morning. The disagreement arose over differences about a wage increase request and did not have the approval of either the national or local officials of the S. W. O. C.

Thomas Carey, local field director of the S. W. O. C., said today that the action was unnecessary and objectionable. Carey stated that the employees had already received a wage increase.

Elks Enthused By Record Made By Degree Team

Championship Of State Is Again Won By Ellwood Elks Team

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—Press dispatches received today announced that the degree team of the Ellwood City Elks Lodge won the state ritualistic championship at Pottsville, scene of the annual state convention. The convention has been in session since Sunday and will end today.

The local degree team, which will receive a fifty dollar award, represented the Northwest Association comprised of some twenty lodges from Coraopolis to Erie, having won the association elimination contest several months ago.

Members of the team are: Gray Gordon, Joe Cragle, Philip Blandine Morris Phelps, Wilson Bonzo, George Fosnought, Frank Fitzgerald and exalted ruler Joseph J. Eckert. Other members of the lodge attending the convention are: Thomas J. Newman, M. F. Dunn and George Hemmery. Sr. Five teams, representing the various districts of the state, took part in the contest.

Ellwood City held the state championship for a number of years in the late thirties, losing it when the convention was held at New Castle. It is a great honor to the Ellwood Lodge and the associate members are very proud of the team.

The 1942 convention will be held at Erie. Charles Shaffer and Park Weller, North Sewickley, have returned home following a motor trip to Canada.

Colonel Wolfe Gets Reception

Commander Of 190th Field
Artillery Returns To Command At Shelby

(By JOHN BALL)
(Special News Correspondent)
CAMP SHELBY, Miss., Aug. 23.—Successfully completing a three-month tour of duty at Fort Sill Oklahoma, Col. Samuel B. Wolfe of Lewisburg, Pa., commanding officer of the Pennsylvania One Hundred and Ninetieth Field Artillery, returned to his regiment.

Amid stirring strains from the 190th band, the colonel was accorded a colorful and hearty "welcome back" by the regiment, including Batteries F and Service of New Castle, and was officially greeted by officers of the regimental staff headed by Lieut. Col. John T. Bell of Punxsutawney; Lt. Col. N. J. Sepp, Pittsburgh; Major Frank S. Buchanan of Altoona; Major Thomas G. Lewis, Lewisburg; Major Karl H. Shriver, Pittsburgh; Major John H. F. Bittner of State College, Pa.; Captains William H. Goehring Jr. and George F. Mitchell of New Castle, Pa.

Lieutenant Colonel Bell, the acting commander of the "big gun" regiment during the absence of Colonel Wolfe turned the regiment over to the colonel and was highly complimented for his excellent conduct of command.

While at Sill, Colonel Wolfe was active in the advanced artillery course for officers.

The armament of the 190th is the huge 155 millimeter long rifle field guns which has received much public attention of late.

These 15-ton giants were fired for the first time by this regiment last week.

Pomona Grange At Plaingrove

Three-Session Meeting Is Held By County Grangers
On Wednesday

Plaingrove Grange was host to members of the Lawrence county Pomona Grange at a three-session meeting Wednesday. Morning and afternoon sessions were held at the Plaingrove Presbyterian church, where the women of Plaingrove Grange served dinner to the crowd. Plaingrove high school was the scene of the evening session.

Routine business was conducted during the morning. The Pomona lecturer led an open discussion on "Changes Affecting Rural Life", theme of the day's meeting, opening the way for the afternoon address. Edwin Gardner, master of Plaingrove Grange, gave a speech of welcome.

Chaplain of Pennsylvania State Grange Rev. Ross M. Haverfield, of Monaca, addressed the crowd on the topic, "Religion in a Changing World".

"God made this a changing world, and religion can't go into a monastery and let the rest of the world go by," the lecturer said, suggesting that the church be the leader in social as well as religious affairs.

"The blessing of change is the challenge it affords for growth," Rev. Haverfield continued. "We need preventative religion along with redemptive religion. We need a changeless Christ for a changing world."

Charles A. Phillips, district representative of the Pittsburgh Hospital association, carrying out further the theme of the day's program by suggesting a specific means of improving health among rural folk by immediate hospitalization when necessary, explained the plan of group hospital care on an insurance basis, which is being made available to all Pennsylvania Granges.

A varied program was presented by the Juvenile Granges of the county. Introduced by their matron, Mrs. Ralph Maxwell, Plaingrove Juveniles Billy Gardner and John Neely presented musical numbers, and Dewitt Maxwell gave a reading, "The Pursue Searcher".

Mrs. Wendell Bell, matron of Westfield Juveniles, presented Margaret McCurley, who gave a reading; June Bell, Bobby Morgan, Margaret McCurley and Raymond Gibson in a skit, "City Cousins"; and Marion Emery and Ellen Gwin, who played a violin duet, accompanied by Mrs. Willis Gwin.

Mrs. Francis McCracken announced the program by Liberty Juveniles, two readings, "When Father Was a Little Boy" and "The Old Maid's Burglar", by Jessie Mae McCracken.

Wanda McCullough presented Big Beaver Juveniles, who furnished two vocal selections, "We Are All Americans", sung by Mary Alice Scott, and "My Sister and I", and "You Are My Sunshine", sung by Irvin McHattie.

Wilmington Juveniles entertained with a duet, "Follow the Glean", sung by the Misses Garrett and Schellenberger. They were introduced by their matron, Mrs. Wendell Wilson.

Phyllis Boots, presented by Matron Mrs. Howard Aiken, represented Pleasant Hill Juveniles, and played a piano solo.

Mrs. William Kelso, matron at Mahoning Valley Grange, introduced Mrs. McCracken, who read "The Mob Scene" and "Prior to Miss Bell's Appearance".

Following the hour of juvenile performances, the state chaplain presented a Bible from the Pomona Grange to each matron for the Grange altar, as a token of the splendid work accomplished by Lawrence county Juveniles.

Closing feature of the afternoon session was a symposium, "How Rural Institutions Can Contribute to a Changing Rural Life". Speaking for the home and church was Rev. R. M. Haverfield, for co-operative organizations were Howard Humphreys and Ray Marshall; for the school, E. C. Wiggins; for other rural organizations, Mrs. Howard Humphreys, and for the Grange, the Pomona lecturer.

Opening the evening session was a reading, "Thirty Years Ago", by Ruth Burns, from Plaingrove, and, from the same Grange, a piano solo, "The Mountain Stream", played by Gay Rodgers.

A large class of 53 candidates was initiated into the fifth degree of Patrons of Husbandry. The degree team, consisting of Pomona officers and others, was coached and directed by Earl McCluskey, of New Bedford Grange. Upon completion of the degree work, the state chaplain congratulated the new members and invited them to take the sixth degree, when the State Grange convenes, in Uniontown, in December.

Next big Grange event in the county will be the Grange banquet, in celebration of the 75th, or diamond jubilee, anniversary. This banquet will take place at the Epworth Methodist church, Tuesday, Oct. 7.

Pomona Grange will hold their next meeting on the first Saturday in December, at Big Beaver Grange. Election of officers will take place at that time.

KIWANIS THROG FEASTS ON CORN, HEARS HUMORIST

Crowd Of 80 At Marvin's Enjoys Message Of 'Dusty' Miller

A humorist's entertaining talk and stacks of steaming hot corn and other good food put last night's annual corn roast of the Kiwanis club, at the picturesque summer camp of Kiwanian H. Lee Marvin, near Ne-shannock Falls, up in a class with the best of past years.

The throng of 80 which turned out—Kiwanians, their wives and families and guests—probably rated it the best, for the message Humorist "Dusty" Miller brought on "People I Know" was a dandy. He kept the throng in an uproar.

Committees of Kiwanis served the dinner under the watch of the corn roast generalissimo, H. Lee Marvin. He always sees to it that his guests have a good time.

President Lyle C. Hughes introduced the speaker, from Wilmington, O., to the outdoor audience.

Urge Ousting Of Sec. Perkins

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Aroused, the people of this nation are firmly united for a national defense program which will keep the United States free from attack by international "mad dogs" who believe that "might makes right."

That, in brief, was the message brought today to the 42nd national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars by James A. Drain, past commander of the American Legion and currently assistant to Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt.

Urge Secretary Ousting

Meanwhile, the veterans passed a resolution urging President Roosevelt to oust Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins from his cabinet because she "has demonstrated her lack of ability to handle the position she holds."

The resolution was introduced by the department of Florida. Three other resolutions—introduced by departments of Maryland, Colorado and Virginia—requested the resignation of the first woman ever to hold any office in a presidential cabinet.

The delegates tabled a resolution to censure "any and all organizations" opposing U. S. foreign policy, but passed others which:

1. Urged the president to outlaw jurisdictional strikes in defense industries as "un-American" in the present emergency; 2. Petitioned congress to "declare, by legal enactment, the Communist party a non-political organization and deprive it of the right of representation on the ballot"; and 3. Advocated that defense employees forfeit their exemption from selective service if they strike, and that they be put in the army "immediately."

Suspend Sentence For Billy Conn On Driving Charge

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—Billy Conn, the prizefighter and the actor, received a suspended sentence and a lecture today when he pleaded no defense to a charge of speeding and driving without a license on Pittsburgh's Boulevard of the Allies last March 20.

Axis Troops May Now Be Across Dnieper River

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service) LONDON, Aug. 28.—Possibility that German and Hungarian troops may have crossed the Dnieper river on the Russo-German front "must not be excluded," British military authorities declared today.

It was pointed out that Axis claims of having crossed the river have not been denied by Moscow.

There was no confirmation in London of German claims that Velikiye Luki has been captured.

Moose Winners Of Golf Title

Capture Second Half Championship At Sylvan Heights Course

TO PLAY POTTERS FOR LEAGUE TITLE

New Castle Moose captured the second half championship in the Sylvan Heights golf league last evening, but they had to fight off a valiant effort made by the Unions, who put on a strong finish, defeating A. and J. 5 to 1, while the Shenango Potters, winners of the first half, were defeating the Moose 4 to 1.

The Moose thus emerged two points to the good.

The championship will be settled in an 18-hole match at Sylvan Heights on Sunday, September 7, following which the league will wind up its season with a banquet at 6:30 o'clock in the clubhouse when the team awards will be presented.

The Moose team will have its work cut out for them in its battle with the Potters, who have a well-balanced combination, and who have won twice from the Moose team, both times by decisive scores.

Joe Smith of Ellwood City will be toastmaster of the evening, and the principal address will be given by Harry Mehlman, who has been engaged in the pottery business for 40 years, and who has a wide reputation as an after-dinner speaker.

Herman Kennedy, king pin of the Moose team, gave evidence that he is really on his game, however, when he went two under par for a 34 last night, and will be a hard man to beat. George Hahn, on the other hand, was only a stroke behind with a 35. Par rounds were shot by Louis Mails and Marty Segedi, while a flock of players had 37s. Included in the group were Pete Dimco, James Galone, Stan and Ted Bukowski, Izzy Solomon, Ted Lech and A. Ottaviani. Scores of 38 were posted by DeLorenzo, W. J. Fleming, Bruce Headland, Timmy Lombardo, while Tony Ottaviani and Charles Perzi had 39s.

Every winner last night turned in a good job, all victories being decisive. Unions defeating the A. and J. team 5-1, while Duca D'Abuzzi and Shelby Social turned in like scores against Universal Sanitary A. A. and Ellwood City Moose, with Workingmen's Social of Ellwood City and Shenango Potters winning from Sagertowns and New Castle Moose by scores of 4 to 1.

The final league standing is:
New Castle Moose 37
Unions 35
Workingmen's Social 30 1/2
Shelby Social 29
Duca D'Abuzzi 28 1/2
Sagertowns 27 1/2
Shenango Potters 23
A. and J. 22 1/2
Ellwood City Moose 19
Universal Sanitary A. A. 12 1/2

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Russell Baxter of this city knocked out Harry Daniels last night in Farrell and according to Tommy Leach, his handler, "Russell would have knocked out Billy Garrett if he had fought Monday night as he did Tuesday." We didn't glimpse Russell last night but we believe that he is yet a wee shy on experience to cope successfully with Garrett, who in our opinion, like many more "old-timers in the amateurs" should be shoed out of that status and forced to turn professional. Lee Shira, the deputy commissioner of this phase of amateur boxing Monday night and we were both agreed that there should be a tightening of amateur rules. Getting back to Baxter, the defeat he suffered here wasn't an ignominious one and the fight taught him plenty. When a youthful aspirant meets a seasoned old-timer he is bound to be taught something. The local lad has only been decisioned twice and in our way of judging, he has come along fast, doesn't need worry over Mr. Garrett and some day will be a much better fighter than Garrett.

So Der Max (Schmeling) yearns for another crack at Joe Louis. Yes, folks that is the story from Berlin this morning. It isn't the Berlin crack so much as the money which Max would like to draw down. A nice bundle of "lettuce" could help Adolf the Slaughterer further his plans. Methinks der Max is going to yearn for a long, long time.

After the Hillville vs Wampum game at Wampum at 5:45 p. m. today the officials will hurry to the Sport Goods store here where Alec Samuels, president of the league will act as arbiter between Hillville and Bessemer. It was charged recently by Manager James Martin of Bessemer that Hillville used an illegal shortstop, Sweeney.

Dorothy Gardner of Steubenville, blasted a four-under-par 72 yesterday at White Sulphur Springs to break the county record for women. Ben Morgan and Sam Steved winners of nine of the 24 major golf tournaments of 1941, stood out as the man to beat to win the $5,000 Hershey open. Ahem! Mose Brown and Jimmy Webb will meet again, the third time, in Pittsburgh September 15, in the Dapper Dan All-Star show.

Football Players Being Fed Well

Football Squad At Muddy Creek Falls Get Three Square Meals Each Day

There is no cause for any of the 42 young football candidates of New Castle High now camped at Muddy Creek Falls to go hungry. Here with is presented a sample of the menu that the boys devour each day, and are thriving very nicely on the food prescribed by Mrs. Thomas Sadler, head of the home economics department of senior high.

Tuesday For Breakfast
Choice of cereals, milk, Eggs and bacon (crisp), Bread, butter and jelly, Stewed prunes.

Lunch at 12:30 O'Clock
Vegetable soup, crackers, Fresh fruit (peaches), Canned salmon (flaked and mixed with celery).

Dinner at 6:30 O'Clock
Roast veal, Boiled potatoes, Buttered green peas, Bread, butter, jelly, Raw chopped cabbage and peppers.

Ice cream and cookies.
The meat of course is changed daily, with roast beef Monday and Thursday, meat loaf on Wednesday and baked halibut on Friday. Every meal the boys are given a raw and fresh vegetable and a raw and cooked fruit. There is an abundance of milk and no coffee. Each boy also is given daily a glass of grape fruit juice.

Faculty Manager Norman Nelson today revealed that it took 35 pounds of veal and beef for each meal, 30 pounds of ground meat for the meat loaf and 30 pounds of halibut. For each dinner in the evening a bushel of potatoes is peeled and consumed. (The cooks do not have much time to sit around.)

As a rule all but the late-blooming perennials, such as anemones, asters and chrysanthemums, may be moved with great ease and success in the autumn as long as the ground remains in good condition.

Grid Season Is Week Away

New Castle High Gridders Complete Three Days Of Training Wednesday

GROVE CITY HIGH FIRST OPPONENTS

One week from tomorrow night and the lights will go up at Taggart stadium for the first football game of the 1941 season with New Castle High's big "Red Hurricane" football team battling Grove City High at 8 o'clock.

The New Castle High team on Wednesday had completed three days of training at camp and were beginning to get the summer kinks out of their systems. Wednesday saw the hardest workouts of the camp stay to date. A light scrimmage was indulged in Wednesday afternoon, with another scrimmage session slated for today.

Grovers Will Be Fast
Grove City High with seven veterans back from the 1940 varsity team, will bring a fast team here, it is indicated. New Castle only eked out a 14 to 6 win last season over the Mercer countians.

Ticket Manager Robert Mills today announced that season tickets have been placed on sale at the Sporting Goods store and the senior building. The season reserved tickets sell for $4.50 for the eight home games. Individual game tickets for the Grove City game will go on sale next Monday at the Sporting Goods store.

Meantime 42 young huskies are trying hard to land varsity jobs with the "Red Hurricane" out at the Muddy Creek Falls camp. The only four boys who seem assured of starting varsity jobs at present are Bobby Lee, Norman Nelson, Norm Scarazzo and Tommy Parou. All four having been regulars in 1940. Some of the rookies look good, but no attempt has been made by Head Coach Phil Bredenbaugh to make up his mind definitely on any of the rookies for first team jobs.

West Pittsburg To Battle Moose

West Pittsburg and the league leading Moose club have arranged for a double-header city baseball playoff at Marshall field Sunday afternoon. The first game will start at 2:15 o'clock.

Manager Danny DeGiovanna will start Dombeck probably the first game or Mike Marky the second game, he indicated. Manager Robinson will have Frigone, Denny or Smith on the knoll in the two games.

The first game is a postponed game from earlier in the season and the second game will be the one that should have been played tonight but was cancelled out of courtesy to the Elders-Homestead Grays game.

Butterflies were so named because of a popular belief that the insects stole butter and milk.

Big Crowd Enjoys Sportsmen's Event

Corn-Wiener Roast At New Castle Fairgrounds Is Huge Success

Ideal weather conditions lured about 300 persons to the gigantic corn-wiener roast sponsored by the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association, Wednesday evening at the New Castle fairgrounds.

The program was simple. Speeches were taboo. The sportsmen served a prodigious amount of corn, wieners, coffee and all the trimmings that go to make up an affair of this kind.

At dusk, coon hunters of Lawrence county laid a track and started more than 20 dogs on a coon hunt. The skeet and trap shoot followed.

The outside fire, which was used for cooking purposes, was enjoyed by hundreds during the evening while many chose the warmth of the clubhouse.

During the afternoon, guns cracked continuously during the daylight trap and skeet shoot.

Visitors were present from Ellwood City and many surrounding communities.

The occasion was a success from every standpoint. Secretary H. N. Drio today said that the date of the next meeting will be announced today.

KNOTT'S BEST YEAR
Jack Knott, soft-spoken Athletics pitcher, is enjoying his best baseball year—because he's got more work to do under gulleful Connie Mack. Jack did a lot of bench warming for the Chicago White Sox last year, but now "Regular work is the answer to it all. I'm working every four days and my arms strong enough so I can go the route."

Church League Ends Tonight

New Castle church golf league will come to a close at the Castle Hills course this evening with the playing of five matches starting at 5 o'clock.

The First Christians will play the Trinity team and will more than likely cop the second half championship unless the players lose all of their matches and the Mahoning team should win all six points from the First Methodist team. The Christians lead at present with 36 points to 31 1/2 for the Mahonings. These are the only two teams able to win the second half. The Christians won the first half and will become the league 1941 champions if they win tonight.

The schedule:

First Christians vs Trinity—Tee No. 1.
Mahoning vs First Methodist—Tee No. 10.

St. Marys vs Highland—Tee No. 1.
First U. P. vs Epworth—Tee No. 1.

Temple Israel vs First Presbyterians—Tee No. 1.

Softball Game Here Tonight

The final softball game of the 1941 season will be played at the National Radiator field tonight at 5 o'clock, with the New Castle All-Stars battling the Sharon Westinghouse All-Stars.

Johnny Morgan is coaching the local All-Stars and has picked the best in the city. The game will no doubt be a fast one.

Morgan asks that the following report: Joe Cooper, Joe Mazzeri, Greg Ross, Nick Ross, Sammy Bullano, Pete Razzano, Tony Compolio, Hub Riley, Tomel, Ed Gallagher and Skip Russo.

New Facilities Added To Camp

New Dressing Cottage Is Added New Springs For Bunks

Faculty Manager Norman Nelson made known to the writer Tuesday at the high football camp that several improvements have been made since last year.

This year the boys have a separate dressing room, apart from the bunks and administration porch where most of the dressing has taken place heretofore. In the new dressing cottage there is space to hang the sweaty clothes and let them air overnight. The suits are hung on hangers.

In the sleeping cottage the boys have new wooden bunks, well made by the school janitors and supplied with new Simmons springs of the finest type. New mattresses also adorn the bunks.

The squad is put to bed each night at 10 o'clock when the lights out whistle is blown by Head Coach Phil Bredenbaugh. The boys are up bright and early at 7 o'clock and start to get ready for breakfast which is at 7:30 o'clock.

The boys rest after breakfast until around 10 o'clock then start to think about practicing, for a good solid two hours and in cases more. The lunch period begins at 12:30 o'clock. The afternoon session starts at around 2:30 o'clock.

CHAPMAN DEFENDER
Handsome Dick Chapman, national amateur champion, is ready and willing to defend his cherished laurel. In 1940 Chapman emerged with the toza by defeating W. B. McCullough, 11 and 9, the largest margin since 1895.

Gladious corms may be dug up as fast as the leaves turn yellow and cured in the sun.

Elders-Grays Battle Tonight

Famous Colored Homestead Grays Will Play Elders At Marshall Field

Marshall field tonight at 5 o'clock will be the mecca for lovers of good baseball to see the Elders and famous Homestead Grays teams battle. This is the most outstanding attraction of the past ten or twelve years for New Castle baseball fans.

The Grays need no introduction to followers of baseball, being one of the fastest and best colored teams in the world. They have compiled over a period of 30 years a most enviable record.

Manager Joe O'Leary will use either Anderson or Gunnert on the hill, it was indicated today.

Following the game here tonight the Homestead Grays travel to Youngstown to play at 8 o'clock under the lights at Idora Park.

The nearest star to the earth, with the exception of the sun, is Proxima Centauri, whose distance is 42 light years.

Sig Siegfried is pressing New Castle's "Bill" Chip for the Navy quarterback berth, according to Eddie Dooley's Football Annual which hit these premises today. Chip's 1940 experience, however, may be the deciding factor. Even if the popular local athlete is on the second battalion, he'll see plenty of action. The illustrated gridiron book, incidentally, is a pip.

Al Bucci, last year's all-state P. I. A. A. end, will perform for Rex Enright, at South Carolina University, according to Al's brother. The versatile athlete headed for the Columbia S. C. institution a few days ago. According to reports reaching this week, Wampum high's new gymnasium, now in the construction process, will not be ready for use by the time the 1941-42 basketball season starts.

"Lindy" Lauro, who is awaiting a wire from Tuscaloosa advising him to report to the football training balliwick of Alabama University, is limbering up at Muddy Creek Falls. The line-slashing fullback is showing some of the yearlings the puzzling art of flipping a pigskin into the waiting arms of eligible pass receivers. Lauro can literally speak, thread a needle with his bullet-like heaves.

Phil H. Bredenbaugh has started his 19th season as head coach of New Castle high. Memory refreshes: Last year's "Hurricane" combo strung together 10 victories, was tied once and escaped the pill of defeat. Butler high blushed an otherwise perfect campaign. The 1940 edition piled up 240 points compared to 38 for the opposition.

Whit Wyatt, whose ninth inning single netted Brooklyn an important triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals a few days ago, has been busy ever since—autographing baseballs, programs, handkerchiefs and what not. The New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns belong to the "V" club. A club has to average at least five runs per game to gain membership. The poor Phillies!

Danny Murlagh has swiped 11 bases in 44 games, which isn't conforming with the Phillies' style of play. Some of the scribes have tagged this handle on the Cleveland Indians—"Peck's Sad Boys." Joe McCarthy never played major league ball. With a club like the New York Yankees, what difference does it make?

The "T" formation, which swept the land following Stanford's unexpected success, will be as popular as women's hats this fall. Because of the numerous intricacies involved, a lot of schools will wish that they had never heard of the formula. Too many supermen are needed to assure success.

Seniors Enjoy Golf-Dinner

Over 100 Seniors 50 Years
And Over Enjoy Golf At Castle Hills

TUCKER HOCKMAN IS MEDALIST 73

It was the third annual Senior Day at the Castle Hills golf course and the beautiful "barbecue" and greens surrounded with the third of the "war clubs" as over 100 men 50 years of age and over thoroughly enjoyed a perfect day of golf and then repaired to the Kings Chapel church basement for an old-fashioned chicken dinner.

The dinner got under way at 6:30 o'clock and consisted of well roasted country chicken and all the trimmings that go to make up a swell meal, well cooked and served to perfection. Welly Rugh led in a pep singing session before and after the dinner.

With the dinner end of the program out of the way Thomas H. "Tommy" Hirschman acted as toastmaster and called on Robert L. Wallace to say a few words and he responded by saying that he was greatly enjoyed the Senior Day. "Pop" Leslie, the originator of Senior Day, was called on and said a few words, saying that he too had had a swell time and would be back next year. William N. Nunn on behalf of the senior golfers presented a piano to the ladies of the King's Chapel church.

Tucker Hockman Medalist Larry Graubling, manager of the Castle Hills course, was called on and gave a fine talk and thanked the men for their patronage and said that he had a few special prizes to award to men who had looked after the welfare of the golf course during the course of play. Charles "Bugs" Walther of The News talked very briefly when called on.

Johnny Hodge was called on to act as giver-outer of prizes to the various winners of the events and handed the M. C. job in his own inimitable manner. Richard Hitchcock and Russ Magill assisted Hodge in giving out the prizes.

The following received prizes for the stated events:
Medalist Tucker Hockman with a 35-38-73 card was presented with a beautiful gold statue of a golfer, one that he can cherish for a long time to come. Hockman had a par round on the front nine and went one over on the tough back nine. Only playing golf for four years, Hockman is one of the most consistent low 70 players at the Castle Hills course and his game is beautiful to watch.

Low two-some—Tucker Hockman and Mont Magill, total 153.
Closest to pin on No. 7—Thomas H. Hartman.

Closest to pin on No. 2—James A. Chambers.
Closest to pin on No. 11—Dr. W. P. Felch.

Oldest players—E. E. McGill 79, W. M. Knox 75, J. K. Davidson 74, William Andrews 73, Rev. W. H. Leslie 71, F. B. Sankey 71, Richard Dana 70.

Lowest four-some—W. N. Nunn, M. K. Gilliland, James Deegan and Wayne Snyder, total 334.

Oldest foursome—Walter Harlan, Homer Drake, A. B. Vogan, J. G. Leslie.

Lowest number of putts for 18 holes—Mont Magill 23.
Longest drive right-handed No. 1 tee—Joe Brown.

The merchants of New Castle and vicinity were thanked generously by the Senior Day committee and golfers for graciously donating more than 150 prizes for the occasion.

The following ladies of the King's Chapel Ladies Aid society prepared the delicious dinner and served it: Mrs. A. T. Eckles as chairlady, Mrs. T. G. Wallace, Mrs. W. R. Holzhauser, Mrs. John Glenn, Mrs. Chester Cover, Mrs. C. L. Springer, Mrs. Leo Michaels, Mrs. Ruth McFarland, Mrs. George Heckathorne, Mrs. Ben Langdon, Mrs. Verna French, Mrs. John Kegarise, Mrs. Clara Pinkerton, Mrs. Anna Houston, Mrs. Kate Hoagland, Miss Ruth Emery and Miss Clara Mae Glenn.

The possessive "from," "it's," did not come into common use until after the 17th century.

Ward Hopes To Recapture Crown

Former National Amateur Champion Tees Off On
Omaha Course

OUIMET REGAINED TITLE IN 1931

(International News Service)
OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 28.—Marvin "Bud" Ward of Spokane, Wash., teeing off with 15 others seeking quarter-final berths in the 1941 national amateur golf tournament at Omaha Field club, set out in earnest today to become the first former champion to recapture the title since Francis Ouimet did it in 1931.

Ouimet, in 1931, regained the title he lost in 1915. Dating back to 1895 when the tourney was born, the only other players able to disprove the axiom that an ex-champion can't come back are Walter T. Travis, Chick Evans and Bobby Jones.

Ward won the amateur crown in 1939 and lost it last year. Today he matched strokes with Glenn Oatman of Kansas City, one of the dark horses for the title knocked off the head of Ward's successor, Dick Chapman, in yesterday's first two rounds of match play.

Among the other matches today are:

Pennsylvania Golfers
Steve Kovach, Tarentum, Pa.,
steelworker, vs. Harry Haverstick

Jr., former intercollegiate star from Lancaster, Pa.

The quarterfinals will begin late today, immediately after the third round. This was the second straight day of "quick death" golf on 18 holes, which yesterday removed from the championship such stars.

Besides Chapman, as Ex-amateur and open champion Johnny Goodman of Omaha, former amateur champion Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, ex-British amateur king Charley Yates of Atlanta, South American champion Marion Gonzales of Brazil, ex-publix champion Frank Strafaci of New York, current publix champion Bill Welch of Houston, medalist Stewart M. "Skip" Alexander of Burlington, N. C., and ex-collegiate champions Johnny Burke of Chicago and Fred Haas Jr. of New Orleans.

Should Ward get past Oatman, he will face the winner of the all-Pennsylvania battle between Kovach and Haverstick. The winner of the all-California clash between McCormick and Skeel Riegel will play the winner of the Bob Riegel-Burkemo match. In the power bracket, the Stone-Bishop visitor will meet the Jennings-Cochran winner, and the Abbott-Todd survivor will meet the Billow-White winner.

Dodgers-Cards Both Win Games

No Ground Gained Or Lost
By Clubs Battling For National League Flag

PIRATES SMOTHER LOWLY PHILLIES

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—With all the clubs in the American League mathematically eliminated from the pennant race, excepting only Chicago, Boston and Cleveland, the New York Yankees need only a half dozen wins, give or take a couple, to settle the issue even among that trio, but what about the National League? In a few words, that one either will be dragged out to a bitter late September end, or the Brooklyn Dodgers or St. Louis Cardinals will crack under this pressure and make it easy for the one that can stand the gauntlet.

Cards Trim Giants

With their battered lineup, the Cardinals came east to take on the Dodgers at Ebbets field and emerged with a draw after four games, then smashed the Giants around last night by a 8 to 5 to stay 1-2 games behind the league-leaders. The Dodgers meantime beat the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 2.

From the way things are shaping up on the basis of the Cards invasion through enemy territory, the least you can say about them is that they are tough and don't figure to get any softer. They are not losing any ground away from home at a time when they can't muster a full complement of first string men.

They made 15 hits last evening off Hubbell and Brown and, although Ernie White couldn't win, they went on to victory behind Gumbert.

Kirby Higbe, who couldn't beat the Cards, scored his 18th win for the Dodgers over the Reds, and allowed only seven hits.

That, of course, showed the Reds a notch farther out of the race and by this time it is strictly Brooklyn and St. Louis.

Pirates Swamp Phils
Pittsburgh swamped the Philadelphia Phillies, 12 to 2, and Boston shut out the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 0, behind Manuel Salvo in one game, then lost to the Cubs, 6 to 4, in a nightcap.

The Yankees moved back to a 17-game lead in the American by routing the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 1. Ernie Bonham hurled a three-hitter for the Yanks. Tommy Henrich hit his 25th home run as part of the Yankee run-making.

Washington beat Chicago, 11 to 3, to set the White Sox back that much farther. Detroit downed Boston, 6 to 3, and Cleveland beat Philadelphia, 11 to 4.

Elders Defeat Slovaks 8 To 3

Davies Allows But Five Hits As Mates Hit Hard, Bevan-
Strausbaugh Homer

Huck Davies hurled a swell five-hitter last night as the Elders defeated the Slovaks in a City League game that was moved up to Wednesday on account of the Elders-Homestead Grays game tonight. The score was 8 to 3.

The Elders had a big first inning pounding out five runs, and came back in the fourth with three more runs. Leading the Elder hit-parade was Red Raven and Tommy Strausbaugh with slashing home runs drives. Huck Davies had a double to help his cause along.

The Slovaks got to Davies in the first inning for two runs, and one in the second, but after that Davies was the master.

The losing hurler was Shimmy Balla, who was relieved by big "Twee" Janoski.

Most young boys envy the student managers for the New Castle high school football team all except the writer who was a manager himself for New Castle 21 years ago!

The two senior student managers for the high squad this year are John Wilson and Jack Quimby. The two junior managers are Jack Daniels and Joe Dadejko.

These boys are kept plenty busy with a hundred and one details to be done, including keeping wood chopped for the stoves, running errands of all kinds, lugging the equipment up and down a steep embankment twice daily, and in general acting as valets for the gridgers, handing them their uniforms and then hanging them up again, keeping track of helmets and shoes, sweat shirts and shoulder pads. The life of a student manager is not all a bed of roses. They even have to wait on tables.

Hillville Wins From Ellwood

Lawrence County League Leaders
Chalk Up Another
Victory

Ellwood City bowed to Hillville 11 to 3 in a Lawrence County Baseball league game yesterday at Hillville. Johnny Pepe pitched and in the pinch was master of the situation. He allowed nine hits while 11 were gathered off Greco. Hillville's sturdy fight for the second half time brought out another big crowd. Hillville is leading the league.

In addition to pitching a good game Pepe collected two angles and a double. Smith and Ferrante each got two hits for Ellwood City with McCready poling a triple.

Deweys Defeat Shamrock Nine

Behind Carl "Cy" Congini's two hit pitching, the Deweys scored a 6-2 City-County Independent Baseball league victory over the Shamrocks Wednesday night.

John "Rags" Gennock led the attack at the plate. After the opening frame, the Rocks nine failed to chalk up a safe single.

Max Wants To Return To U. S.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—Max Schmeling has come back to Berlin from Greece and Crete, very much alive and determined to get another crack at the world's heavyweight championship.

The one-time top man in the fight business presented himself at the International News Service office in Berlin today in person, just to prove he is no ghost and that all reports of his having been killed in Crete some months ago were what Jacobs Beach would call "baloney."

Immediately after the war is over, Schmeling said, he will make a bee-line for the United States "to bring back Joe Louis' scalp."

"And just to show I'm tougher than ever and can lick any of them," he boasted, "I'll parachute out over the New York airport from the first plane that will take me and pull a Crete on Mike Jacobs."

"Naturally I'll have boxing gloves instead of a machine-gun."

Max is in Berlin on leave, looking tanned and healthy. He still has a bandaged knee, but otherwise is okay. I asked when he thought he'd be back in New York.

"Maybe next year," he said. Discussing his parachute exploits, Schmeling said:

"Anyone can jump from a high altitude. But I do it the Luftwaffe way. We go out from distances not much greater than the height of the Empire State building."

Keeping Schmeling Advised
Friends in America, Schmeling said, are keeping him fully informed of boxing developments. On the basis of Louis' latest fight, he said he thinks the Detroit bomber is going downhill fast and will soon lose his fight to a challenger.

"But I hope I get there first," he said. "I'll take on any challenger or whoever is champ at that time."

"I am doing one fight for the European heavyweight title this winter, and meanwhile will make an exhibition tour for the soldiers. That's a good way to keep in trim."

"The new kind of military training I've been getting isn't stiff. It's closely akin to sports training, so I found myself getting into really good shape, whereas I thought I would go stale under rigid discipline."

Maxie has been decorated with both the first and second-class Iron crosses and promoted to a non-com in recognition of his bravery in Crete.

Captured British soldiers from Liverpool recognized him and immediately shook hands amidst a raging battle, Schmeling said.

"They started talking about the fight game right away."

Stock Market Higher Today

For Third Straight Day Market Is On Upside, Gains Limited To Modest Proportions

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The stock market today made its third straight up the upside.

Buying was moderately active at the opening but the pace slowed later, and as in the two preceding sessions gains generally were limited to modest proportions. A few issues lagged.

A feature was a slump of more than a point in Pepsi-Cola, following its recent run-up in the Senate omission of soft-drink taxes in the new revenue bill. Canada Dry reached a new high for the year before slipping behind a minus sign.

Fractional gains included those in Anaconda, Kennecott, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, Pennsylvania R. R., Standard Oil of N. J., Sears Roebuck, U. S. Rubber, Good year, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Celanese and Industrial Rayon.

Loews and Hiram Walker joined Canada Dry on a move to new highs for the year.

Institute Of County Teachers Comes To Close

Two-Day Sessions In Epworth Church Concluded With Fine Addresses

NEW TRENDS IN SCHOOLING GIVEN

With two stirring addresses, much along the same lines, on the meaning of liberty, and what lies ahead for America, the 88th annual institute of the Lawrence county school teachers was brought to a close in the Epworth Methodist church Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. J. Raymond Schutz, president of the Standard Life Insurance Co. of Indiana, a former professor of psychology at Manchester college, spoke on "Liberty, Its Privileges and Responsibilities," while Robert Kazmayer, world traveler and lecturer, spoke on "What Lies Ahead for America."

Previously in the day, there had been two splendid addresses by Dr.

Willis Sutton, superintendent of the Atlanta, Ga., schools on new trends in education, and the outlook for the future.

The county teachers were given an inspirational uplift for their new year's work as the result of the institute and will be ready for the new term which opens next week.

The attendance during the institute was exceptionally good, and the speakers sat in rapt attention, the speakers being of an outstanding calibre, who knew their subjects and were able to put them across to their audience.

June '37 Class Annual Reunion Held Wednesday

More than 100 persons who were members of the June 1937 graduating class at the New Castle Senior High school held their third annual reunion at a park on the Harlamsburg road Wednesday evening.

A tureen dinner menu was served at 6:30 o'clock at the park. Many out-of-town guests took part in the gathering this year.

Dancing, swimming and singing were the pastimes of the hours.

Plans were made to hold the 1942 reunion during the last week in August.

Gillette Chosen As Congressman

(International News Service) SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 28.—Wilson Gillette, of Towanda, Bradford County, today was the Republican nominee for the seat in Congress made vacant recently by the death of Congressman A. G. Rutherford, (R), of Honesdale.

Fifty-two delegates from eight counties in the 15th congressional district met in convention here and decided upon Gillette after four ballots had been taken. James F. Torrance, state G. O. P. chairman presided. Gillette is now serving his sixth term in the legislature.

Democrats held their convention at the same time in Tunkhannock and selected District Attorney George O. Wagner, of Danville, Montour County, as their congressional nominee in the 15th district.

John Urges Christian Love

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

St. John the evangelist

"Let us not love in word, neither with the tongue; but in deed and truth."—1 John 3:18.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for August 31 is The Epistles of John, the Golden Text being 1 John 3:18, "Let us not love in word, neither with the tongue, but in deed and truth.")

THE WRITER of these three Epistles of John was in all probability the same John who is the author of the Gospel of John. The style is the same, the thought is similar. It is not known just when they were written, but probably between A. D. 90 and 95. And it is surmised that they were written from the city of Ephesus.

John's thesis is the love of God for us, the sacrifice of Jesus for our sins, and our own faith in this sacrifice manifested in our way of living and attitude toward our fellows.

All believers should have one fellowship, and all should have fellowship with God. We have these fellowships if we "walk in the light." It is useless to say we have no sin, because it is not the truth, and we deceive ourselves if we say so. We must confess our sins and ask forgiveness, so we may be cleansed of them.

"Love One Another" John addresses himself to fathers, young men and little children. Several times he writes "My little children, these things I write unto you." If you say you know Christ, but do not keep His commandments you are telling a lie. For instance, if you profess faith but hate your fellowmen, you are not telling the truth and "walk in darkness"; but if you love your brother or fellowmen and women, you walk in light, because you are keeping Christ's commandment to "love one another."

You cannot be a true follower of the Master if you love the world and the things thereof more than righteousness. Ambition, strong appetites, riches ill begotten, etc., are sins of the world, and profit you nothing.
